

MARY BALDWIN

MARCH 1982

VOLUME XXIX, NO. 4

SPECIAL EDITION NEWSLETTER

Editor's Note: MARY BALDWIN is changing! The Office of Information and Publications and the Office of Alumnae Activities are reformatting the magazine and newsletter. Watch for the new look in the first issue of the MARY BALDWIN.

News/Notes

Preview Summer Programs

The summer of 1982 promises to be an exciting season on the MBC campus. Senior citizens, Presbyterian ministers and their families, computer science and humanities-oriented secondary school students, college applicants and their parents will converge on the hilltop campus less than two weeks after MBC's commencement.

Elderhostel, the first of the summer programs, is a national education program for citizens 60 and over. The program is divided into four separate sessions, June 13-16, June 20-26, June 27-July 3, July 4-10. Each session combines social and recreational activities with classes taught by MBC faculty. 1982 is the third year MBC has hosted Elderhostel.

(Continued on page 2)

elderhostel 1981

Trustee Honored At Tea

Helen Sproul (l) and MBC Chaplain Cathy Snyder (r) are caught up in conversation with Bertie Deming, '46, center, during a tea honoring Deming. The tea was sponsored by Lambda Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa at MBC. Deming, who is vice-chair of the MBC Board of Trustees and serves on the executive committee and the finance, business, and endowment committee, was recognized Oct. 22 prior to the Board of Trustees meeting for her outstanding contributions to MBC.

Homecoming 1982

People who regularly schedule annual events know the seemingly impossible chance of improving their own last best effort. MBC Homecoming is just such an event but since departed Director of Alumnae Activities, Sylvia Baldwin Moffett, '76, has again outdone herself and Homecoming 1982 should be the best ever!

Homecoming weekend, May 14-16, combines nostalgic interludes with faculty and classmates in an exciting series of red-letter events for alumnae, spouses and guests.

(Continued on page 5)

Summer Preview

(Continued from page 1)

College-bound high school students and their families will be interested in a brand new MBC summer program, the College Admissions Family Workshop, June 18-20. The decision to invest in a college education is one of the most important choices any family can make. The workshop is designed to help students meet with the competitive pressures of college admissions and to enable parents to assist and support the student in the process.

Admissions specialists staff and the weekend program guest speakers will be Dr. Virginia Lester, president, Mary Baldwin College; John T. Casteen, III, secretary of education, Commonwealth of Virginia; and Alice Irby, vice president, Educational Testing Service. Accommodations for the weekend, all meals, a reception and banquet, instructional costs and private counselling are included in the fee for the program.

High school student, Lucja Begonja, combines summer and study in S₃PI (1981).

MBC's latest summer project in the technological world is the MBC Computer Camp for boys and girls ages 12-17. The program is designed to teach students basic computer literacy through "hands-on" instruction, individual and team projects. The camp combines small group instruction in computer operation with recreational activities. Junior computer camp, June 20-July 3 and senior computer camp, July 4-17 includes on-campus housing, meals, use of college facilities, field trips and holiday outings.

Presbyhostel is a word coined to describe a special vacation program for Presbyterian ministers and their families beginning on July 11. It provides a low

(Continued on page 3)

Mary Baldwin Means Business: Visiting Executives Program II

Imagine you are a college senior majoring in business at a small private liberal arts college for women. You have learned enough about the theory of management, and the next step is to gain real life experience.

If you were a senior at Mary Baldwin College, you would gain a very special type of "real world experience" in the "Colloquium on Corporate Management." April 8 marks the end of the second semester of the seminar which brings a small group of senior business majors together with some of the top chief executive officers of Fortune 500 companies.

The chief executive officers discussed the finer points of upper-level management from their perspective. The purpose of the colloquium, the brainchild of MBC trustees, is to take students beyond the textbook lecture style of learning.

"This country of ours is on a collision course with economic and social disaster," said James Wheat, chairman of the board of Wheat First Securities. Years of excessive government spending and mismanagement of the business sector have contributed to impending disaster. "And you all represent the means of getting out of this mess," Wheat told students in the colloquium.

As chairman of the board, Wheat said that among the "heartening signs" of the present economic situation is the abatement of inflation. This is significantly different than the abatement in 1975. Commodities are building a base for more stable prices for a longer period of time. Second, "an abatement of governmental growth" has occurred. Also today financial assets for the first time in 10 to 15 years have real returns "which are unparalleled in history."

Wheat said he sees significant change in the American economy scene with further slowing down of collision. He advised students to ensure that the collision is slowed down by getting involved in the political process through voting and writing congressmen.

Karl D. Bays, Delta Airline board member and chief executive officer of American Hospital Supply Company, encouraged involvement but in a different vein. He told the students that women are a major resource in the employment task force. Bays emphasized the management of human resources. "Getting other people to help you is crucial," he said. If women aren't offered equal opportunities in business, they become "a resource you're not tapping along the way." Incorporating that women are a valuable resource into his work philosophy, he worked from being a sales representative for American Hospital Supply Corporation to being named chairman of the board and chief executive officer of that company sixteen years later.

Students also learned about different companies' philosophies. Explaining the philosophy of Best Products Co., Inc., Frances Lewis, executive vice president said, "You cannot stand still. You have to change."

In the last 25 years to get the best product, the consumer has gone from the specialty shop to department stores and catalog houses back to specialty shops. In the midst of this, Best Products Co., Inc. was born and today remains the largest catalog showroom merchandiser in the United States.

Each visiting executive contributed their personal view of the business world from a personal and professional level. Students in the colloquium could then assimilate these views into their own career plans.

The schedule of executives for the second semester of the program included: Barry J. Galt, president and chief executive officer of the Williams Companies; Edith R. Locke, former editor-in-chief of Mademoiselle and present host of YOU!, a national cable television program; T. Justin Moore, chairman of the board of Virginia Power and Electric Company; W. Hayne Hipp, president and chief executive officer of the Liberty Corporation; James Wheat, chairman of the board of Wheat First Securities; Frances Lewis, executive vice president of Best Products Co., Inc.; Karl Bays, chairman and chief executive officer of American Hospital Supply Co.; Joseph Smith, editor of Alexandria; and Sanford Weill, chairman of the board of Shearson/American Express.

Sanford Weill, who started as a runner on Wall Street in 1956, is now Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer of Shearson/American Express, Inc.

Sophomore Show

"MAME" COMES TO MBC

"Mame," the story of a rich and zesty Manhattan lady in the 1920s, was presented by the Mary Baldwin College sophomore class March 26 and 27. The musical comedy by Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee tells of Mame's inheritance of a ten-year-old nephew and their lives during the depression.

First Row, left to right: Barbara Kiley, Marilyn Hughes, Laura Kerr, Jennifer Lambert. Second Row, left to right: Sydney Wood, Evelyn Tranchin, Anna Gildersleeve, Liz Edgerton. Back Row, left to right: Jackie Skinner, Erin Sullivan, Paige Manuel.

Graduate Forecast

Contrary to a lead article in "Washington Business" (Washington Post, March 29, 1982), on the rejection and frustration Virginia college seniors face in the job market, MBC seniors seem to be enjoying more than their share of success in job hunting.

According to Diane Kent, MBC Director of Career Services, the employment forecast looks bright for the class of '82. Early predictions indicate the majority of career-oriented MBC grads will be employed in the profit-making sector of private corporations. Although approximately 70 percent of the class plans to attend graduate school, most seniors first want a full-time job.

Kent notes that recruiters from Burroughs Corporation, United Virginia Bank, The State Police, The National Center for Paralegals and the Virginia School system have interviewed on campus. More companies have visits scheduled but '82 grads are taking the initiative to make their own contacts in the market place.

Students made connections that pay off with employment during MBC externships and summer jobs. Parents and friends are also sources for contacts.

"Parents seem more concerned, more willing to help with job searches," says Kent, "they appreciate the expense of college especially in light of today's economic outlook."

The '82 grads are gaining the advantage through a combination of their own diligence and specialized career counseling geared for the individual. Kent explained that students who have done some strategic planning and are persistent in their efforts are interviewing and receiving offers from prospective employers.

MBC Director of Career Services, Diane Kent, predicts a bright future in the market place for the Class of '82.

The career services office also offers students "career identification," a five to six week process of determining skills, talent, and interest. Kent regularly makes "field career counseling calls" to potential employers to keep abreast of employment trends.

"Education and communications are two fields of high interest this year," said Kent, although with the diverse academic preparation liberal arts students receive they are able to pursue various career opportunities including graduate school.

So despite the economic outlook, the class of '82 has a promising future. The MBC Office of Career Services will keep close track of their success. The office will also do a post graduation follow-up on the class of '82 but right now the mood is "optimistic."

Summer Preview

(Continued from page 2)

cost vacation with optional classes and activities on the campus of the oldest women's college in the south related to the Presbyterian Church. Presbyhostel is sponsored by Mary Baldwin College and approved by the Synod of the Virginias.

S.P!, the Special Summer Science Program, is in its sixth year this summer at MBC. S.P! Courses are designed so that students experience the excitement of science. Extensive laboratory work, field trips, and instruction in the use of sophisticated modern instrumentation are featured aspects of the curriculum. S.P! is open to boarding as well as day students.

The 1982 MBC Summer Catalog with details, fees and applications for all the programs is available through the office of continuing education, (703) 885-0811, ext. 276 or, write to: Director of Continuing Education, Mary Baldwin College, Staunton, VA 24401.

Students and professors from the Doshisha Women's College in Kyoto, Japan will bring an international atmosphere to the MBC summer campus when they visit July 17-Aug. 8.

This is the third year that Doshisha students have come to MBC to study English language, American history and culture. The young women will live on campus while attending classes and then stay with area families for a one-week home visit. Dr. Charlotte Hogsett, director of the program, also plans trips to Monticello, Richmond, Williamsburg and Washington so that students gain a variety of American experiences. Host families, faculty and guests will be educated and entertained when a reciprocal exchange of culture takes place during the annual highly popular talent show presented by the Japanese students.

Information concerning all summer programs is available through the office of summer programs (703) 885-0811, ext. 276 or write to the Director of Summer Programs, Mary Baldwin College, Staunton, VA 24401.

MBC Professor Receives License

Dr. Jerry R. Venn, Mary Baldwin College professor of psychology, was recently licensed to practice psychology by the Virginia State Board of Medicine. He was awarded the license on a recommendation by the Virginia Board of Psychology after completing a year of supervised experience under a clinical psychologist.

Dr. Venn received a doctorate in educational psychology in 1970 and a doctorate in school and clinical child psychology in 1976, both from the University of Virginia. In addition to teaching at MBC, Dr. Venn serves as a consulting psychologist to People Places, Inc.

Family Relationships Seminar at MBC

What is marriage all about? Can we survive as families? How do we recognize deteriorating relationships? These issues were discussed at Mary Baldwin College's second Family Life Program, Feb. 7 and 8. The program on family dynamics sponsored by MBC, First, Second, Third, and Covenant Presbyterian Churches, the Staunton Area Ministerial Association, and the Presbytery of Shenandoah, grew out of MBC Chaplain Catherine Snyder's realization that our daily lives are affected by family relationships.

Participants in the program learned how to build on the positive elements of their family relationships and how to identify and correct the destructive elements. One participant in last year's program said "any community [group]—single, married, old, young—can relate to a conference like this."

Dr. William V. Arnold, associate professor of pastoral counseling at Union Seminary in Richmond, led the Family Life Program. An ordained minister of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., he is certified as full supervisor with the Association for Clinical Pastoral Education and is author of When Your Parents Divorce and Divorce: Prevention or Survival.

The college and the community benefit from the collective experience gained through the Family Life Program. MBC continues to collaborate with the community as demand increases for programs that offer practical counsel on church and family issues.

Intramurals:

Mention clans and blazer girls to any pre-70 alumnae of Mary Baldwin College, and they will remember the camaraderie and good fun of intramural sports. In 1982 intramural competition is once again becoming a favorite diversion for students, and no one is particularly surprised to find President Lester out on the hockey field playing on the faculty/staff team against the students.

Years ago, a student team nicknamed the Irish were pitted against the Scottish. Competition began every year with a picnic on the old hockey field. Each clan had its own distinctive costume and were rooted on to victory by cheerleaders. At the end of the season, a plaque was awarded to the winning clan. As the college grew, two more clans were added representing the English and Welsh.

By the early 1970s, the intramural program was run by the student government. Competition was between classes and to have a class-color blazer was a definite status symbol. The student who made the most outstanding contribution in the athletic and intramural program was awarded the coveted white blazer.

In the last few years, the popularity of intramural competition has declined, but Betty Kegley, director of intramurals, terms this year as "the rebuilding year for intramurals." She is "pleased with the overall outcome" for the program.

Kegley said students now enjoy competition between dorms. The sixteen teams, which are competing this year, represent the dorms, the day students, and faculty/staff.

Events for this year include field hockey, flag football, basketball, swimming, table tennis, badminton, and

Do You Remember Clans or Blazer Girls?

Even President Lester found time in her busy schedule to participate in a field hockey intramurals.

volleyball. Teams receive points toward the overall competition from participating in each event.

After completing games in field hockey, flag football, basketball, and swimming, Tullidge Dormitory is leading with 71 points. Woodson III is second with 54.4 points, and the faculty/staff team is third with 52.5 points.

In basketball, Woodson was declared winner with faculty/staff defeating them in an exhibition game. In swimming, the faculty/staff team outpaced dorm teams with a total of 12 miles completed. Tullidge finished second with eight miles. Competition in table tennis and badminton continue, and volleyball wrapped up the season in mid March.

Following the bouncing ball required the complete concentration of intramural volleyballers.

Reunion

Gretchen Clark Hobby '60 (l.) and Sara Armstrong Bingley '60 (r.) reminisce with classmates during the President's reception at Reunion 1981.

Saturday, May 14, the Alumnae College will present "Mind Your Own Business," (see story on page 6) a two-part seminar, designed for MBC women who want to be their own boss. The "how-to" program features Joycelyn Martin Johnson, assistant district director for management assistance in the Baltimore office of the U.S. Small Business Administration. A panel of successful alumnae entrepreneurs will share their experiences and secrets of success in self-owned small businesses.

The Alumnae College series is organized by the Continuing Education Committee of the Alumnae Board.

The National MBC Alumnae Association will elect officers and members-at-large for 1982 at the annual business meeting scheduled after Alumnae College in Francis Auditorium. The association will recognize outstanding alumnae leaders, present class awards and review current projects.

Alumnae will meet old friends and catch up on today's MBC at the annual luncheon on Saturday at 1:00 p.m. President Virginia Lester will be the keynote speaker preceding the awarding of the 1982 Emily Smith Medallion.

This year's schedule is flexible. More nostalgic alumnae will have the opportunity to visit faculty at a rendezvous in Ye Merry Be Pub, renew friendships at Class Parties or take a special guided tour of Historic Staunton. Sports-minded alumnae and guests can take a break with tennis or golf.

Career oriented alums can take advantage of free counseling information, resume writing, and contact service offered by the MBC Office of Career Services during the Alumnae Open House, Friday noon to 2 p.m.

The MBC Office of Admissions is sponsoring a special presentation during the open house and overnight program for alumnae daughters or other prospective students.

MBC Theatre will provide entertainment with a sneak preview of Neil Simon's "The Gingerbread Lady." Alumnae art will be displayed at the Martha Grafton Library Gallery.

A catered Italian dinner, picnic supper, breakfast and Bloody Marys, luncheons and buffets will refuel alumnae during the weekend.

All alumnae are invited to attend the 1982 MBC Homecoming. Milestone and class cluster reunions are: 1932, 1951, 1952, 1953, 1957, 1972, 1977, and 1978.

Chairpersons are:

Virginia Maben Stokes '32
Patsy Brown Schlick '51
Mary Lamont Wade '52
Ethel Smeak '53
Sara Burwell Robinson '57
Kathy Young Wetsel '72
Karen Weyher '77
Lavlette Lacy '78
Catherine McKenney Harcus '78
Lisa King '78

Registration information is in the 1982 Homecoming brochure or call the MBC Office of Alumnae Activities at 703/885-0811 ext. 361.

Slate of Nominees For Alumnae Association Board of Directors: 1982-83

First Vice President: Leigh Yates '74,
Richmond, VA

Vice President for Annual Giving: Jane Sheffield Maddux '72 (Mrs. John E.), Charlottesville, Va.

Vice President for Continuing Education:
Anne Graves Foster '76 (Mrs. W. Joe)
Danville, Va.

MEMBERS-AT-LARGE:

Meredith Dunbar Carlson '60 (Mrs.
James), Copake, N.Y.

Kate Scott Jacob '50 (Mrs. N. Wescott),
Onancock, Va.

Mary Lauren Lehnhertz '79, Dallas, Texas
Pamela Kent Pettus '72, Richmond, Va.

Macon Clement Riddle '63 (Mrs. Hill C.), Roanoke, Va.

Gardner Roller '73, Davidson, N.C.

Sara Frances Ferrell Shay '40 (Mrs.
Donald Emerson), Linthicum, Md.

Jann Malone Steele '72, Richmond, Va.

Published in accordance with the Constitution and By-Laws of the Mary Baldwin College Alumnae Association, Article V—Nominations, Elections, Section 2 and 3:

"Officers and Members of the Board of Directors shall be elected at the Annual Meeting. Terms of office shall commence on the first of July following the election.

Following the election of officers and members of the Board of Directors, the results shall be published and distributed to all members of the Association."

See Special
Reunion
Program
Insert:
Yellow Pages

National Search for MBC Alumnae Director Begins

A nationwide search has been initiated for a director of alumnae activities at Mary Baldwin College.

In a letter of resignation to the MBC Executive Committee of the Alumnae Board, Sylvia Baldwin Moffett '76, noted, "It is difficult to express how deeply I appreciate the closeness we have shared these past several years. I feel that the term I served in this office was the single most rewarding experience of my full nine years at MBC, including my college."

Moffett graduated from MBC in 1976 with a bachelor's degree in psychology/sociology. In 1977 she came to MBC as an admissions counselor and in 1979 was appointed acting director of alumnae activities. In 1980, Moffett became director of alumnae activities.

As director Moffett has developed a successful MBC Alumnae Admissions Nominations Program, and coordinated homecomings, executive board meetings, alumnae receptions, parties and meetings.

Moffett plans to enter private business.

Interested alumnae should direct inquiries to: Vice President for Development and College Relations, Mary Baldwin College, Staunton, Va., 24401

Memorial Gifts

Memorial gifts to former MBC professors Mary E. Lakenan and Mildred E. Taylor can be made to the Mary E. Lakenan Scholarship Fund and the Mildred E. Taylor Scholarship in Mathematics.

Lakenan, who died Feb. 3, 1982, was professor at MBC from 1927-1953. The Lakenan fund was established by the college YMCA in honor of Mary Lakenan, who was for many years sponsor of the organization. The scholarship, which was established in 1961, gives an annual award of approximately $100 to a student.

Mildred Taylor, who died Nov. 3, 1978, was professor at MBC from 1930-1968. Marguerite Latham Clemmer, '39, and other former students and friends established the Taylor scholarship in 1981 in memory of Dr. Taylor. The scholarship of approximately $600 is awarded to a student with a particular interest in math.

In Memorium

The MBC community expressed sincere regret on the death of Dr. Donald T. Thompson, professor of psychology at MBC, who died in an automobile accident near Berlin, Md., Sept. 12, 1981.

Thompson received his Ed.D. from the University of Virginia, his M.S. from Lehigh University in Pennsylvania, and his B.A. from

(Continued on page 7)

Alumnae College

"Minding Your Own Business" Seminar Set for May 15

By Ginger Mudd Galvez, '73

"Carol Wagner Davis, '61," is a genius in the kitchen. Her specialty, cheesecake, has won blue ribbons in many gourmet cooking contests. A local restaurant is eager to feature Carol's cheesecake on their menu. She wonders if other restaurants might buy from her as well.

"Ellen Gibbs, '67," has spent the past fourteen years working for two large New York-based corporations. She's moving up in her career with enviable speed and is close to completing an MBA at night school. "Ellen" wants the satisfaction of running her own show, and she's talked to close friends about setting up her own consulting business.

"Ann Smith Oliver, '49," has a knack for organizing. A leader in the Junior League in Richmond and active on several volunteer boards, "Ann" organizes brilliant charity benefits, knows how to attract media coverage, and coordinate large groups of other volunteers. She's starting to think that it might be nice to be paid for her expertise in public relations.

These three hypothetical alumnae all share this in common: they are considering going into business for themselves. Despite today's difficult economic climate, "Carol," "Ellen," and "Ann" are not alone.

Any alumnae returning to Mary Baldwin for the Reunion weekend, May 14-16, who have also felt the urge to be their own boss will find a continuing education program on Saturday, May 15, of special interest.

Called "Minding Your Own Business," this two-hour program will feature practical how-to information from an expert of the U.S. Small Business Administration and a panel discussion featuring several alumnae who have gone into business for themselves. A packet of source information will also be offered to any alumnae interested in researching the topic further.

The seminar is an offering of the Continuing Education Committee of the Mary Baldwin Alumnae Board. The free program is open to all returning alumnae, husbands, and guests.

The reasons why women go into business for themselves vary. Some are going into the working world for the first time and are dissatisfied with their low-pay options. Others feel they have peaked in their present job and long to stretch themselves further. Some feel that they have a new idea; some have a twist on an old idea. And some women simply want to be their own boss.

Sally Douglas of the National Federation of Independent Businesses in Washington, says "It's what I call the entrepreneurial spirit; and today, women are catching it at a much faster rate than men. The entrepreneurial spirit means that you're willing to take all the heartaches and all the headaches and only make a little money probably for quite a while—just to be able to say, 'I did it my way.' Many women view owning their own businesses as power over their own destinies."

Mary Jo Aagerstound, director of the special training and counseling of the U.S. Small Business Administration's Women's Business Enterprises, says that women are becoming self-employed at a rate five times that of men.

The keynote speaker for the "Minding Your Own Business" seminar will be Joycelyn Martin Johnson, assistant district director for management assistance in the Baltimore office of the U.S. Small Business Administration.

Mrs. Johnson oversees a variety of programs for the SBA, among them the Women's Business Enterprise program in her district, and has led many workshops on starting businesses. A native of the Virgin Islands, Johnson earned her MBA from Morgan State University in Baltimore. She has worked for the SBA for the past five years.

Her talk will cover introductory information on topics such as the entrepreneurial personality; writing a business plan; how to find professional services; raising money; understanding cash flow; how to get publicity; and managing the influence starting a business can have on your personal life.

Sports

RAC at MBC

ABC-TV cameras were not present, the omnipresent voice of Howard Cosell was not heard, and no network crew hustled behind the lights, but the MBC netters experienced "the thrill of victory and the agony of defeat" during the Rebel Athletic Conference Basketball Tournament. The MBC team earned the coveted sportsmanship award but did not win the tournament.

In tournament action, Mary Washington College came away victorious with the championship title for Rebel Athletic Conference.

Mary Washington went into the tournament unbeaten in Division IV with a 20-6 record for the season. Shenandoah College, with the conference leading scorer Laura Johnson, was ranked two.

Mary Washington turned back Shenandoah for Division IV women's basketball crown Tournament action began Thursday, Feb. 25 with Randolph-Macon Woman's College soundly defeating Sweet Briar 66-38. In the second game Southern Seminary swept by MBC 53-47. Action continued that night as MWC averaged nearly three points per minute in the second half easily defeating Averett 93-34. Thursday night play ended with Shenandoah College's victory over Bluefield 59-49.

In Friday's play, during the consolation games Averett rolled by Sweet Briar 76-45, and then Averett landed in double overtime, defeated MBC 72-64 in the second game.

After Friday night's game with Mary Washington over RMWC 73-63, and Shenandoah defeating Southern Seminary 59-43, Mary Washington and Shenandoah moved on to the championship.

(Continued on page 8)

Mary Baldwin and Bluefield go up for a jump ball

President Virginia Lester and MBC Basketball Coach Carolyn Brooks awarded Joanne Ciccone of Mary Washington with a plaque to the Division IV All-Tournament Team

MEMORIUM (Continued)

the University of Virginia. Prior to coming to MBC in 1964, Dr. Thompson taught at Lehigh University, Kreuka College in New York, Corning Community N.Y., the University of Virginia, and Dalhousie University in Nova Scotia.

While at MBC, Dr. Thompson served as director of the National Science Foundation Grant to Increase Women in the Sciences from 1957-1977. Also for the last seven years, he was director of research of the spinal cord injury project at Woodrow Wilson Rehabilitation Center and travelled all over the country helping set up and staff rehabilitation centers. He was returning from such a visit when his automobile was struck.

Board of Trustees

The Mary Baldwin College Board of Trustees will hold its biannual meeting April 16 and 17. Chairperson Rosemarie Sena, senior vice president of Shearson/American Express, will preside over the meeting.

Members, who serve five-year terms, are subdivided into six committees: executive; finance, business and endowment; academic affairs; student life; development and college relations; and nominations and orientation. Each committee reviews the progress and the future of the college.

MBC Calendar

May 14-16
Alumnae Reunion.

May 21-22
Mary Baldwin Theatre presents Neil Simon's "Gingerbread Lady." Frances Auditorium. Tickets available at the door or by reservations.

May 28
Class Night Dinner and Commencement Ball.

May 29
Commencement

June 13-19 and 20-26
Elderhostel, educational program for persons 60 and over.

June 20-July 3
Junior Computer Camp

June 27-July 3
Elderhostel, educational program for persons 60 and over.

MBC Month

Memorial Day, Labor Day, Thanksgiving, Christmas, and now MBC Month. From Texas to Connecticut, members of the Advisory Board of Visitors and the Parents' Council celebrated MBC Month with parties to acquaint prospective students with the college.

MBC Month was the product of the October Advisory Board of Visitors Meeting. During the Admissions Committee meeting, members discussed how to best inform and interest prospective students in MBC. January was set aside as the month for ABV and Parent's Council members to host parties and invite prospective students, current students, alumnae, guidance counselors, parents of current and prospective students, and other friends of the college to talk about the excellent opportunities at MBC.

Students participating in the MBC Month were Joy Breed, of Gainesville, Ga., Charis Caldwell, junior from San Antonio, Texas, and Susan Mitchell, freshman from Powhatan, Va.

Hosting parties were:

Advisory Board Sponsors

Atlanta, Georgia

Mrs. Claire Lewis Arnold

Charlottesville, Virginia

Mr. Eric Heiner

Mrs. Jean B. Murray

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harvie Wilkinson

Corpus Christi, Texas

Mrs. Pamela Wavell Baker

New Orleans, Louisiana

Mrs. G. Price Crane, Jr./

Mr. Paul Johnson

Tulsa, Oklahoma

Mrs. Elizabeth Kirkpatrick

Doenges

Washington, D.C.

Mr. W.S. Johnson

Mr. C.L. Haslam

Parents' Council Sponsors

Birmingham, Alabama

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. England

Cape Charles, Virginia

Mr. and Mrs. James Thomas

Savage

Danville, Virginia

Mrs. Landon Wyatt, Jr.

New Canaan, Connecticut

Mr. and Mrs. William O. Reuther

Alumnae Sponsors

Dallas, Texas

Miss Mary Lauren Lehnertz/

Dallas Alumnae Chapter

In addition, Mr. and Mrs. Spruce McCain and Mrs. Betty Brandon organized a November reception in Columbia, South Carolina.

(Sports—RAC Continued)

In a consolation game Saturday, Bluefield defeated Averett 47-46, and in the championship game, Mary Washington won over Shenandoah 74-47.

Named to all tournament were Ruth Bonner, Trish Long, and Jeanne Ciccone of Mary Washington, Lynne Phillips from Bluefield, and Laura Johnson of Shenandoah College.

Named to the all conference team were Ruth Bonner, Trish Long, and Melanie Taylor of Mary Washington, Laura Johnson and Karen Eggleston of Shenandoah College, Rena Boone of Averett, Sam Fisher of Bluefield, Kim O'Donnell of Mary Baldwin College, Donna Gregory of Southern Seminary, and Marta Ruggles of Randolph-Macon Woman's College.

Southern Seminary upset Mary Baldwin College, 53-47 to move to the state semifinals.

MBC Swimmers Rank in Top Ten Times

Virginia Women's State Division III has announced the top ten standings in swimming for the 1981 fall season. Colleges represented in Division III are Mary Baldwin College, Sweet Briar College, Roanoke College, Randolph Macon Woman's College, and Mary Washington College.

50-Yard Freestyle

Third, Charis Caldwell of San Antonio, Tx.
27.52 (11-23-81)

Fourth, Jane Byrd of Richmond, Va.
28.18 (11-19-81)

100-Yard Freestyle

Fifth, Susan Stover of Tyler, Tx.
1:04.48 (11-23-81)

200-Yard Freestyle

Third, Susan Stover
2:22.06 (11-23-81)

500-Yard Freestyle

Third, Susan Stover
6:08.12 (12-2-81)

50-Yard Backstroke

First, Charis Caldwell
32.19 (11-23-81)
Seventh, Jane Byrd
34.40 (11-5-81)
Ninth, Anne Olmedo of Baltimore, Md.
34.60 (11-5-81)

100-Yard Backstroke

Sixth, Jane Byrd
1:15.40 (11-5-81)
Eighth, Anne Olmedo
1:16.07 (12-7-81)

Tenth, Robin Newcomb of Springfield, Va.
1:23.87 (11-23-81)

50-Yard Breaststroke

Sixth, Anne Olmedo
39.16 (11-23-81)
Seventh, Leanne Williamson
of Altavista, Va.
39.91 (12-2-81)

100-Yard Breaststroke

Sixth, Leanne Williamson
1:24.49 (12-2-81)

50-Yard Butterfly

Eighth, Robin Newcomb
35.24 (11-23-81)

Fourth, Robin Newcomb
1:18.20 (11-5-81)

100-Yard Individual Medley

Third, Anne Olmedo
1:11.75 (11-19-81)
Seventh, Leanne Williamson
1:15.60 (12-2-81)
Eighth, Susan Stover
1:15.80 (11-5-81)

200-Yard Individual Medley

Third, Anne Olmedo
2:35.03 (11-19-81)

200-Yard Freestyle Relay

Second, "A" Team
Anne Olmedo, Charis Caldwell,
Jane Byrd, Susan Stover
1:51.37 (11-19-81)

Seventh, "B" Team

Andrea Brown of Upperville, Va.
Isabelle Vince of Bethesda, Md.
Tara Humphries of Goldsboro, NC
Allison Jones of Tyler, Tx.
2:10.97 (12-2-81)

200-Yard Medley Relay

Second "A" Team
Charis Caldwell, Anne Olmedo,
Robin Newcomb, Jane Byrd
2:10.41 (11-23-81)
Fifth, "B" Team
Tara Humphries, Susan Stover,
Leanne Williamson, Allison Jones
2:24.45 (12-2-81)

CLASS NOTES

Due to the volume of class notes received, this issue of MARY BALDWIN newsletter is dividing the notes into two sections. Class notes from 1915 through 1971 are published in this issue. Notes from 1972 through 1981 will appear in the next MARY BALDWIN magazine.

1915

MARY WINE MILLER Murphy is living in Staunton and writes, "I am 87 years young." Mary Wine has eight grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

1917

EOTH SEARHON HAWPE is living in a home for ladies in Richmond, Va., and likes it very much. Her two great-grandchildren live in California.

From Charlottesville, Va., CATHERINE HARNES-BERGER Woodall writes that her granddaughter, Catherine, has transferred from Ohio Wesleyan University to Mary Baldwin.

1922

MARGARET VAN DEVANTER Fancher lives in Atlanta, Ga., and writes that her granddaughter, who has lived with her for five years, was married in April, but tells us that she stays too busy to be lonely.

HOPE GLICK Walker, Gallatin, Tenn., recently had a wonderful trip to Munich, Prague, and Vienna.

1923

The City of Emporia, Va., declared Nov. 30, 1981 "DOUGLAS SUMMERS Brown Day" in recognition of her many contributions to her community, particularly in the realm of history. Through her efforts, three buildings in the area have been placed on the Virginia Landmarks Register. Her husband is a former minister of the First Presbyterian Church.

1924

RUTH MOWERY Marler and her husband travel extensively; their last trip took them to China which they both enjoyed immensely. They live in Camarillo, Calif.

MARY ELLEN BOWEN Sadler is living with her daughter in Virginia Beach, Va., after breaking her hip while visiting another daughter in Savannah, Ga.

EDWYNNE HEREFORD is enjoying living in a beautiful retirement apartment in Albuquerque, N. Mex., and is planning a trip to England in June.

1925

JANICE WILMOTH Rorke, who lives in West Harwich, Mass., boasts of having four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

FRANCES HARRIS Weaver lives in Victoria, Va., and recently enjoyed the Virginia state meeting of the Daughters of The American Revolution at the Hotel Roanoke.

MARY McCOLLUM Chaddick of Angola, Ind., has been a widow for five years and is living in a small home in the country with her cat and dog.

1926

SALLIE SCHENCK Mason, Charlotte, N.C., has two children, Lucinda and Robert, and three grandchildren.

1927

ELIZABETH RICHARDSON Bane and Gene keep busy with Masonic meetings, Eastern Star, highway meetings, and the American Auto Association. Their three children all live in Roanoke, as well as their six grandchildren. Elizabeth and Gene live in Grundy, Va.

1930

MILDREO MOORE Nixon and Eugene recently traveled to Europe where they visited the places he had been with the 8th Division during World War II. They live in Mount Dora, Fla.

MARY DOSWELL Abell lives in Falls Church, Va., belongs to four lineage societies, and holds office in three of them.

ELIZABETH GRIFFY Wooton lives in Hazard, Ky., and manages a farm in Anderson County that has been in her family for over a hundred years.

1931

Since her retirement several years ago as a research psychologist with the Federal Government, ELIZABETH JOHNSON has been very busy with volunteer work, classes, clubs, other organizations, and travel. Besides extensive travel in North America, Elizabeth has taken 31 overseas trips (not all since her retirement!), visiting all continents, except Antarctica, and many islands from the Caribbean and Hebrides Islands to Fiji and Bora Bora. Elizabeth lives in Arlington, Va., where she has served as a volunteer income tax assistant, has worked with a public service group and at the Kennedy Center, and has served as a volunteer teacher for three classes in the public schools. She has also taken short courses at the Universities of Edinburgh and Aberdeen and at Merton and Lincoln Colleges, Oxford University, and also some full-time courses at the George Washington University.

MARGUERITE VALZ Olson lives in San Antonio, Texas, where she part of a patterning team for an injured boy and teaches a Bible class for adults. She and her husband celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in June 1981. They have two sons and two daughters, 11 grandchildren, seven great-grandchildren, and Marguerite writes that she is "just trying to grow old gracefully."

ARLINE HARMON Crawford stays busy in Salisbury, N.C., with Meals on Wheels Board and the Thompson Children's Home Auxiliary.

BETSY ROSS Bevis writes from Stuart, Fla., that she took up tennis in 1968 and it has become a way of life for her. "Just love the game and my life revolves around it." Betsy talked to HELEN WILSON Ruykhaver and FRANCES BAKER on the phone last year and enjoys seeing HARRIET SEEM Neff occasionally.

INA Mackey Shores has been a very busy alumna since her graduation from MBC. She taught English to Japanese grade-schoolers and spent 17 years as a volunteer worker on behalf of the mentally and physically handicapped children in Fairfax County, Va. Ina was instrumental in the founding of Elizabeth's Gift Shop in Fairfax, the proceeds from the shop sales going to the OP shop of Fairfax Opportunities Unlimited, an establishment providing vocational rehabilitation and employment services to handicapped residents. She is manager/buyer for the shop and has served in that capacity for a number of years. Ina and her retired U.S. Army husband live in Vienna, Va., and are the proud parents of four children and five grandchildren.

From Princeton, N.J., JANE GRIFFIN Dix writes that she is busy at the Art Museum, Princeton University, with Meals on Wheels, the University League, a garden group, and church activities. Her husband is a former Princeton librarian, and they have three children and six grandchildren.

NELLIE WERNER Thomas lives in Roanoke, Va., where she is assistant director at the Christian Community Inc., a school for girls with special needs.

ELIZABETH CARLILE Talbott and her husband live in Seminole, Fla., and have two children and three grandchildren. She works with the heart and cancer funds in Seminole.

RUTH SEE writes from Montreal, N.C., "Technically retired, I'm working full time and enjoying it. I've done a little writing and I keep my hand in editing." Ruth is research historian for the Presbyterian Church archives, and stays busy with her volunteer work at the Black Mountain Presbyterian Church, AAUW, and the United Nations Association.

MARIAN RAGAN Taylor is deeply involved with the DAR, having held most of the offices in the state and national level. Marion lives in Gastonia, N.C., and is an active volunteer with the Girl Scouts, Bloodmobile, Women of the Church, Meals on Wheels, and Tiny Tim (crippled children) in her local hospital.

AGNES JUNKIN Peery and her husband recently toured Mainland China with a group of graduates of the Shanghai American School. Agnes is a tenant relations chairperson for low-income housing and is writing children's materials for church, etc. They have four children and live in Tazewell, Va.

MIRIAM HUGHES Williams and her retired husband, Bob, enjoy living in Annandale, Va., where they are close to their daughter, Lynn (MBC '67), and her family.

1932

From San Jose, Calif., POLLY STRONG writes that she stays busy keeping in touch with friends, prison family work, and being a circle secretary since 1955. Polly is a retired professional hand-weaver.

DOROTHY HUTCHINGS Alberts lives in Hollywood, Fla., and is a retired psychiatric social worker. Her husband is also retired. Dorothy serves on the disaster relief committee of the American Red Cross.

ALENE BREWSTER Larner and her husband recently spent some time in Australia, where their son, his wife and two daughters live. Alene lives in Blacksburg, Va.

REBECCA WILLIAMS Holman recently sold her home of 40 years and has moved into an apartment in Raleigh, N.C. Her son and grandsons live in Winston-Salem.

CAROLINE RABENOLO Miller is a retired Army nurse, living in Glenside, Pa. Caroline is a Salvation Army volunteer and enjoys crafts, especially quilting.

In Blackstone, Va., VIRGINIA MABEN Stokes stays busy babysitting, shopping for shut-ins, and she and her husband enjoy riding bicycles together. They are both very active in their church. They have two children, Jennie and John, and four grandchildren.

JOSEPHINE HUTCHESON Magnifico lives in Farmville, Va., and has enjoyed traveling in Europe, Mexico, and Canada. She lives in Farmville in the winter months and spends the summers at the home in which she was born and grew up in the Valley of Virginia.

1933

For anyone who is interested in hiking or birdwatching on the Monterey Coast of California, VIRGINIA BRAND Francis has offered to give a guided tour! Virginia lives in Salinas.

After 34 years of exciting missionary work in Brazil, CHARLOTTE TAYLOR and her sister, Mary Garland, are enjoying retirement at Sunnyside Presbyterian Village in Harrisonburg, Va.

1934

After the death of her husband, Tom, and trying to cope with a house for a year, CATHERINE ZIMMERMANN Kriete has moved into a condominium in Richmond, Va.

Our sympathy to MOLLIE BENSON Buckley who lost her husband in January. Mollie lives in Arkadelphia, Ark.

1936

DOROTHY BEAR Roach has recently retired as a social worker at the Lynchburg Training School and Hospital where she had worked for 15 years. Dorothy is the church organist and director of the junior choir. Her husband is an Episcopal Church clergymen; they live in Arlington, Va., and have three children and three grandchildren.

JANET DUTHIE Hoff writes from Guilford, Conn., that she recently saw CRA EHMLING Ehmann and MARY DELIA NICHOLS Flory; and before that she had had a reunion in New York City with NANCY WALLACE Henderson, JANE DEWEY, and EMILY GOODWIN Armitage. Janet is a driver for the Red Cross and has two children.

From Macon, Ga., HELEN WADE Dantzler writes proudly of her first grandchild, Benjamin David. Her children, are all away from home, but Helen stays busy with her Woman's Club, CAR, garden club, and other volunteer activities.

LUCILLA WHITE Whitted is looking forward to her husband's retirement as chairman of the Modern Language Department and professor of Spanish at Hampden-Sydney College this year. They are planning to move to Wilmington, N.C., from Hampden-Sydney. Va., after his retirement. Painting, sewing, and gymnastic groups are a part of her busy schedule, along with M.R.E., Presbyterian School of Christian Education, Church Women United, Town and Country Beautification Council, and other college and community activities.

CATHERINE MIDELBURG is retired from Civil Service (Air Force) and lives in San Antonio, Texas.

NANCY WALLACE Henderson is a self-employed free-lance writer. She published two books in 1978, "Celebrate America," children's plays; and "Janet Climbs," a novel for young readers. Also, a play produced as a "showcase" in New York (1980) titled "36-A." Nancy lives in New York City.

DOLLY BELCH Hine calls Newport News, Va., home where she stays busy with numerous volunteer activities, including church and Woman's Club. She and her husband enjoy traveling. They have nine grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

From Bennington, Vt., MARY DELIA NICHOLS Flory writes that she is enjoying retirement from her work as a psychotherapist. Her husband is a retired pathologist. Their children are Janet and Catherine, both living away from home.

EMILY GOODWIN Armitage in Fairfield, Ct., is looking forward to the wedding of her daughter Alice in June. Emily stays busy with her son, Robert, at home and her church nursery each Sunday, and is head of St. Jude's Guild, and a cancer dressing group.

NELLIE HANKINS Schmidt lives in Savannah, Ga., and is a teacher of Latin and classical history at the Savannah Country Day School; her husband is assistant headmaster there, also, and both are looking forward to retirement. Nellie's husband is restoring a downtown row house for their use. They have two children, Susan and Peter.

JEAN HEBBARD Palmer and her husband live in Upper Montclair, N.J., and she writes that they have two daughters, three granddaughters, and one grandson. Jean is a volunteer at the Cerebral Palsy Center in Belleville.

MARY ELIZABETH (TIBBY) GARDNER Glen writes from Chambersburg, Pa., that she and her attorney husband enjoy traveling a great deal, including a trip to China. Tibby is a volunteer for Meals on Wheels and the Cancer Drive.

BETTY VINCENT McMullen lives in Newport News, Va., but is planning a move to Columbia, Mo., in the near future. Her husband, John, had planned to retire from the ministry in July 1980, but died of a heart attack in April 1980. Our sympathy to Betty and her children, Mary, Betsy, and Kathy.

DOROTHY DOUGLASS Kellam of Belle Haven, Va., is past president of her hospital auxiliary, past president of the Garden Club of Virginia, past chairman of the Restoration Committee of the Garden Club of Virginia, and member-at-large of the Garden Club of America, and has received the Emily Smith Medallion from MBC for her dedication to civic and community concerns.

In Waynesboro, Va., KATHERINE DYER Dudley stays busy with her volunteer work in the church, garden club, and the community. Her daughter, Katherine, lives in Los Alamos, N.M., and son, Edward Jr., is a stock broker and lives in Charlottesville, Va.

MARY BESS FITZHUGH Oliff is living in a retirement community in Roanoke, Va., where she is near her son and three grandchildren. She has a daughter who lives in St. Louis, Mo.

1937

JEAN HOLLIDAY is enjoying retirement after 43 years on the staff at U. Va., as administrative assistant to the Dean, School of Engineering and Applied Science and executive secretary of the Virginia Engineering Foundation. Jean recently received the Algernon Sydney Sullivan Award at the university.

GINNIE GANTT Kendig of Roanoke, Va., and her husband keep busy and travel a little. As of Feb. 17, they have their first grandchild.

From Magee-Women's Hospital in Pittsburgh, Pa., we learn that MARY WELTON Enzian was recently elected to the Board of Trustees of the hospital. She has served Magee in a variety of voluntary capacities for over 40 years. She is a charter member of the hospital's Volunteer Service Board for which she was president and is currently a member of the executive board; she is also a member of the hospital's Women's Auxiliary Board. In addition, Mary is a volunteer at the Harmarville Rehabilitation Center, St. Margaret Memorial Hospital and Meals on Wheels, and is active with the College Club of Pittsburgh and the Fox Chapel Community Guild.

THEODOSIA MANN Ehle, owner and director of Oak Manor Farms in Weyers Cave, Va., handles the riding programs for MBC, James Madison, and Bridgewater College. She raises show horses on the side — busy, busy! Her husband is a retired medical technologist.

VIRGINIA WHITE Taylor lives in Amelia Court House, Va., and her husband is a retired Presbyterian minister. Their children, George, Martha Finley (MBC '73), and Jessie are all away from home.

STUART DAVIS Barker is a volunteer worker with the Red Cross, the Girl Scouts, and her church in Logan, W. Va. Her husband retired in 1965 and they moved to Florida; he had a stroke in 1974 and they returned to "the hills." While in Florida, they had a visit from EMILY TURNER Grove.

ROBERTA VANCE Horner is a retired art teacher living in North Falmouth, Cape Cod, Mass. She stays busy with her house, garden, church and community — "and spoiling our two small grandsons all we can get away with!" She is also a volunteer at the Senior Citizen Center, teaches in church school, and is on the staff of the Millbrook Art Center. Her husband is a retired Sylvania senior scientist.

MARTHA LANCASTER Early of Wardensville, W. Va., enjoys quilting, and is active in the Extension Home-makers and her church.

In Hillsboro, Ore., JOSEPHINE BARNETT Ritchie is still enjoying music, having given a piano duet concert recently. She has performed two piano concerts for the benefit of the Oregon Symphony. Josephine is a substitute teacher/librarian for the Washington County schools, and her husband is consultant to the Maryhill College president.

ELIZABETH MARKS Weintraub of Old Forge, N.Y., is a volunteer with the Red Cross, the United Way, Little League, AAUW. She and her husband are both retired and recently spent several months in Florida.

EDYTHE ALPHIN Moseley of Blacksburg, Va., is a Pink Lady at the Montgomery County Hospital, a discussion leader with the Bible Study Fellowship, a group leader for the Lutheran Church Women, state Ecumenical development chairperson for Church Women United, member of DAR, a Sunday school teacher, and still finds time to play bridge.

1938

From Glastonbury, Conn., PEGGY LOU HOOVEN Murphy writes that she recently had a new little grandson. Peggy Lou is looking forward to retirement in the near future.

DOROTHY SPRUCE Schick recently had a visit from her MBC roommate, VIRGINIA COOKE Volk, and husband who were returning from the Orient.

Our deepest sympathy goes out to LELIA HUYETT White in Perry, N.Y., whose husband died suddenly Jan. 1, 1981.

VIRGINIA COOKE Volk writes of her visit with DOROTHY SPRUCE Schick which she enjoyed so very much. Virginia and husband Frank live in Sarasota, Fla., just one block from the Gulf of Mexico.

From a newspaper clipping we have learned that DOROTHY COHEN Silverman of Melville, L.I., N.Y., has been re-elected to a second three-year term on the New York State Teachers' Retirement Board. Dorothy is one of three elected teacher-members of this nine-member governing board. She is a career chemistry teacher who has served for 17 years on the faculty of the Farmingdale Union Free School District. Dorothy's husband is a professor of mathematics at Suffolk County Community College, and they have four children and two grandchildren.

NELDA TERRIE Swann writes from Highland Springs, Va., that since the death of her husband in 1980, her three children and grandchildren are "the lights of my life now."

RUTH ROSE GALEY Welliver and husband Warren live in Hartsburg, Mo., where he is a Supreme Court judge. They have three daughters of whom they are very proud.

BETH RANSON Wolfman recently wrote from Lansdowne, Pa., telling us that her husband, Karl, had died Dec. 19, 1980. Our sympathy goes out to her.

MARY MCCALL lives in Savannah, Ga., and is busy with a variety of volunteer jobs, including "Pink Lady" work at the local hospital. May enjoyed three weeks touring in Scandinavia recently.

1939

FRANCES RUE Godwin of Phoenix, Ariz., is still working on a church staff and finds it very interesting. She and her husband are planning a trip to Japan and China in September of 1982.

MARCIA GOUCH Johnston, Roanoke, Va., writes that she and Fowler are enjoying good health, playing lots of tennis and are active in civic and church work. He is still active in real estate.

BETTY BOYD Caskey writes from Honolulu, Hawaii, that it was very exciting to be visiting in London during the Royal wedding. She has retired from federal service and has been selected for inclusion in publication of "Leaders of Hawaii," which contains biographies of Hawaii residents who have distinguished themselves in business, government, the professions, community service, and the arts.

VIRGINIA KELLER Goodfellow lives in Memphis, Tenn., and lost her husband to heart and cancer complications in October of 1980.

MILDRED LAPSLY is thoroughly enjoying her retirement in Alexandria, Va. She is an active volunteer in the Mount Vernon Hospital Auxiliary and is Northern Virginia representative for Delta Kappa Gamma.

1940

From Lancaster, Pa., ALICE BITNER Freund writes that she is "Proud to report that I have just completed 11 years of service with the same organization, where I am both personal supervisor as well as executive secretary. Just one of your late bloomers!"

MARY CONLON Schulz of Terre Haute, Ind., is clerical volunteer and on the Minister's Council of First Congregational Church; co-manager of a farm and vice president of Ben E. Schull Agency, Inc. She has a married son and daughter and a son at home; two grandsons. Mary recently enjoyed an art gallery tour in New York City.

DONNIE FRASER Stitt of San Antonio, Texas, is a real estate agent with two children, Fraser and Tobin.

KATHERINE BELL LEWIS Watts of Salem, Va., writes "Our life is busy — maybe sometimes hectic, but never boring!" She and Stuart have enjoyed some interesting travels. They, along with their children, Jim and Kathy, are active in their family business, Shenandoah Tool and Supply Company. Katherine is also involved in the activities of her church and P.E.O. projects.

HARRIET HOUSTON Donaldson lives in Hampton, Va., and is active in her church and local hospital. Her husband is a retired engineer and they have twin daughters.

ALICE JARMAN Browder is a teacher in Missoula, Mont., and her husband is a retired professor from the University of Montana. They have three sons and two grandchildren. Looking forward to retirement and traveling.

VIRGINIA HAYES Forrest of Greensboro, N.C., stays busy with many volunteer activities: Junior League, garden club, Bible Study Fellowship, her church, local and state pharmaceutical organizations. She has three children, Stephen, Hayes, and Beverly.

CATHERINE ANDERSON Roller of Front Royal, Va., is an instructor/counselor/coordinator of the Clerical Studies Program at the Lord Fairfax Community College in Middletown. Her volunteer activities include community projects, her church, and the Business and Professional Women's Club. Her husband is retired and they have one son and two grandchildren.

BETTY GRANGER Scott is busy with church and civic activities (working with the mentally handicapped) and Girl Scouts. She worked as administrative assistant to the Dean of Students at the University of Arizona, Tucson for 23 years, but retired from that position in 1980. She is planning to relax and do a little painting now that she has the time. Her daughter, Kathy, lives in Florida and has a Girl Scout troupe.

ALMEYDA SPRATLEY Peyton of Richmond, Va., is bookkeeper for the Junior League of Richmond and her husband is an independent insurance executive. They have three children.

GLADYS WALKER Jacobs, Baltimore, Md., has been a guidance counselor for the Howard County Department of Education for 26 years. Her husband is with the Vitro Laboratories Division of Automation Industries, Inc. Gladys lists as volunteer activities the Maryland State Advisory Board for Career Education, and Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers (board member for Career Education). Their son, Jeffrey, is employed by Weyerhaeuser Company.

From Richmond, Va., FLORENCE JEFFREY Wingo writes that her youngest son had been in Israel for a year, but she was looking forward to his return. Florence is a volunteer with the Virginia Museum Council, Gift Shop and her husband is with First and Merchants National Bank.

PEGGY HERSCHER Hitchman and husband have been restoring an old house in Stuarts Draft, Va., and she is serving as an ABC trustee and working on short-term projects in her church.

EMMA PADGETT Fitzhugh makes daily visits to see her mother and aunt who are in the same nursing home. She and her husband live in Newport News, Va., where he is president of Murray and Padgett Real Estate. They have three children and two grandchildren. They have an old box garden and have added an Oriental garden by the lake.

SALLY CHENEY Walker of San Antonio, Texas, writes that she is "...back in a life drawing class now after some years of no art work." Sally is involved in the Altar Guild of her church, garden club, the Charity Ball Association, The Battle of Flowers Association, and is in charge of landscaping at Saint Mary's Hall, a private school of which she is an alumna. For several years Sally has given a program on Texas wildflowers, showing slides of the many types. Ganahl is a retired business man, rancher, and trustee of the San Antonio Museum Association. The Walkers have three children.

JEAN BAUM Mair is an archivist with the Smith College Museum of Art, and is involved with the League of Women Voters, the hospital auxiliary, and her church. Jean has two children. She lives in Northampton, Mass.

Referring to her job title, VIRGINIA LEE ALDRICH Fogle writes "... I am at the moment a surrogate mother to two grandchildren while daughter is going to graduate school at the University of Miami." Virginia is chairman of a counting team of monies collected at church (make up re-cap sheet for computer team), sponsor member of the Museum of Science of Dade County, member of the Ladies Sail of Coral Reef Yacht Club. Her husband is an attorney and they live in Miami, Fla.

RACHEL HASSELL Stevens lives in Raeford, N.C., and is a self-employed music teacher. Rachel has a son and is active in her church and enjoys working in her yard, needlework, and quilting.

KATHERINE McKALE Beckwith and husband have spent the last several winters in Arizona. They share their home in Battle Creek, Mich., with her 98-year-old mother who has had a stroke and is unable to live alone. Their daughter, Mary Kay, is working for Partners of the Americas in Washington, D.C.

Keeping very busy in Jackson Heights, N.Y., is RUTH OWEN Whitfield. She is president of the College Women's Club of Jackson Heights; recently retired from The New Yorker magazine after 28 years, has also retired from the U.S. Naval Reserve after 38 years, works with emotionally disturbed children, is historian for the Major Jonathan Lawrence Chapter NSDAR, is secretary-treasurer of Betty Owen Secretarial Systems, and is a fund-raiser for the American Cancer Society.

Another busy alumna is ETHELYNN JONES Maxwell, who lives in Louisville, Ky. She is a board member of the local mental health association, conservation chairman for the city of Audubon Park, board member of the Audubon Park Garden Club, is a member of the hospital auxiliary, serves on the session of the fourth Presbyterian Church, serves on the pastor-search committee, teaches Sunday school, is active in the Women of the Church, sews for her two grandchildren and herself. Ed and Ethelyn enjoy gardening and yard work. Their son, Edward Jr., is a child psychiatrist, and daughter Betsy is a kindergarten teacher.

MOLLY WAGENER Rice lives in Baton Rouge, La., and is a self-employed tour director, who likes doing watercolors, sewing, potting plants, church work, and traveling. Molly's husband is a Presbyterian minister, and they have four children.

FRANCES "FRANKIE" MOOSE Jennings of Roanoke, Va., and husband Harold operate their family-owned jewelry store with a specialized bridal shop. Their two sons are certified gemologists with the American Gem Society and work in the family business. Frankie stays busy with volunteer church activities, was a former French teacher, former president of the Junior League, and has served on the Mental Health Board.

MARY LOUISE VAN ATTA Derr ("Pee Wee") is a freelance writer and associate editor for the Journal for Handweavers, The Weaver's Journal. She is publicity chairman for the Boulder region of the American Red Cross and is on the publicity committee for the Boulder Tennis Association. "Pee Wee" is also an avid tennis player and hiker. Her husband is deputy assistant director, National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration, with the Department of Commerce. They live in Boulder, Co., and have four children.

SHIRLEY FLEMING Iben lives in Peoria, Ill., where she keeps busy with church activities and taping for Recording for the Blind Association. She belongs to a book club, P.E.O., does needlepoint and plays tennis. She makes regular trips to Missouri to see her parents, as well as trips to see her two grandsons. Her husband is a retired circuit judge, and they have two children.

SARA FRANCES (Sance) FERRELL Shay is still very much involved with the National League of Families of American Prisoners and Missing in Southeast Asia, as well as the Linthicum Civic Association, P.E.O., Tri Delta Sorority, Woman's Club and other civic organizations. Sara has two children and two grandsons. She is looking forward to her husband's retirement shortly from the Dental School at the University of Maryland. Sara lives in Linthicum, Md.

In Jacksonville, Fla., THELMA RIDDELL Goliathy is professor of communication at the Florida Junior College. Thelma teaches an adult Sunday school class at her church and is chairman of the education committee of AAUW. Her daughter, Ann Elizabeth, is a physical therapist.

KITTY HOLT Dozier is guidance director at Shelburne Junior High School in Staunton, Va. Her volunteer activities include work in her local hospital, the mental health board, and her church. Kitty has four children — three married, and one grandson.

MARGARET PURDOM Dawson is an associate realtor with Hornbeck Realty in Versailles, Ky. She has four children.

ALICE JONES Thompson will be moving from Richmond, Va., to Virginia Beach, Va., in April 1982. Son Mac is in the oil business in Houston, Texas, and daughter Lisa lives in Suffolk, Va., and has a son.

1941

MARY KAY MILES Whitaker of Mercer Island, Wash., changed careers several years ago from teaching to insurance medical claims.

At last report JANET CLINE Harman had visited Egypt and Hawaii and was looking forward to a trip to China. Janet lives in Greenville, De., and has two sons. Her husband is with DuPont.

JEAN LARNER Gray, Washington, D.C., and Bill are enjoying retirement, their grandchildren, golf and travel. From her last note we learned that they were planning a cruise through the Panama Canal to South America, in February and March.

From Pulaski, Va., MALVINE PAXTON Graham writes that she is busy keeping up with her three children, seven grandchildren, and doing volunteer work at the county library.

Enjoying leisure time and grandchildren, GENEVIEVE BENCKENSTEIN Elder and her husband feel free to travel now that they no longer have the cares of their old home and yard. They have moved into a most convenient townhouse in Staunton, Va., and find it to be "simply great!" Genevieve is still very active in her church, the hospital, and the hospital auxiliary.

ANNA GALE GREENLAND Dorch writes that she is doing a lot of traveling, swimming, golf, and gardening. Carl has retired from the Chamber of Commerce. They have two sons. Anna Gale is a volunteer with the Central Indiana Regional Blood Center (board of directors), her church, and garden club in Indianapolis, Ind.

VIRGINIA EVANS Crapuchettes lives in Benicia, Calif., where she is active with the United Crusade, the American Heart Association, is a Sunday school teacher, a Bible class teacher, and a deaconess. Paul is retired, but stays busy doing consulting work in microwaves.

In Lynchburg, Va., MARY ELLEN THOMAS Moorhead is an active volunteer with the Bloodmobile, fund drives, Meals on Wheels, is a church librarian, and is busy with church activities. Her husband is manager of the Lynchburg Municipal Airport. They have three grandchildren in Texas and Kentucky.

MARY HENDERSON McCauley of Versailles, Ky., is a former member of the Junior League, is presently secretary of the Woodford County Association for Retarded Citizens, a member of the Woman's Club, and is involved in various church activities. Her husband is a retired merchant, and they have three children and four grandchildren.

JOY GILLAND Price lives in San Antonio, Texas, and has four children "all grown and happily situated," and four grandchildren. Joy's husband is with Equitable Life Insurance.

LOUISE KINKEL Boehmke is a social worker with Family and Children's Society in Binghamton, N.Y., and is also active in her church, Planned Parenthood, and also works with the elderly. Her husband is an auditor, and they have four children. They enjoy square dancing, gardening, traveling, and are planning for their retirement.

AI and LILLIE HARWELL Williams are active in church and community activities in Corvallis, Ore. Lillie says that "...we are 'woodsy' people who enjoy hiking, hunting and fishing. Oregon is the 'promised land' for us." They have two children, and AI is a retired Army officer. Lillie is a volunteer at the Good Samaritan Hospital, with Meals on Wheels, holds officer positions in her church, and also assists with nursing home birthday parties.

CECIL BREWER Fish of Corrales, N. Mex., and Charlotte spend a lot of time in the mountains, cut their own firewood, play a lot of golf, and fish. He is extremely busy as Rector of St. Marks-on-the-Mesa Episcopal Church. They have three children. Cecil is actively involved with the YWCA, NCCJ, Juvenile Justice, church, driver for Senior Citizens, etc.

LELIA DUNLAP lives in Staunton, Va., and is payroll clerk with the Augusta County School Board.

BETTY JANE RODRICK Manning lives in Slingerlands, N.Y., where her husband is a lawyer. They have three children. Betty Jane occasionally sees CAMILLE ANDERSON Jensen in New York City. Betty Jane is a member of the board of directors of St. Margaret's Hospital for Babies in Albany.

DORRIS WITHERS McNeal is a hospital volunteer in Virginia Beach, Va., and her husband is chairman of the board of Empire Machinery and Supply Corp. They have three sons and enjoy golf, sailing, art, jogging,

In Dothan, Ala., MARTHA FARMER Chapman is active in the Service League (a combination of all services), and her husband is a real estate developer. They have three children and four grandchildren.

JANE SIMMONS Minick lives in San Antonio, Texas, where she is a volunteer with the Republican National Committee and the Bexar County Volunteer Services. Her husband is a retired U.S. Air Force colonel. They have four daughters, two grandsons and one granddaughter.

From Winter Park, Fla., BETTY PRINGLE Barge writes that she is on the Altar Guild of All Saints Episcopal Church, Junior League sustainer, belongs to the National Society of Colonial Dames in Florida, and is on the Orlando-Winter Park Town Committee. Betty has two children, Marion (MBC 67) and Mason.

VIRGINIA CHARLES Lyle of Churchville, Va., is working on a master's degree at JMU, writes poetry, and through her teaching, encourages students' creative writing and art. Virginia is a Sunday school teacher, a volunteer librarian, and is active in the United Methodist Women. Her husband is a mechanic with Smith Transfer Co., and they have six children, all married.

MARIE ULMER Wolfe lives in Columbia, S.C., and writes that her last child finished college in '81 — the end of 31 years of college for her.

CHARLOTTE ALLEBACH Yocom, Lansdale, Pa., is working part-time as a secretary for the North Penn School District, and her husband is with Ford Aerospace. They have two daughters, Debbie and Cheryl.

MIREILLE KESTER Thompson is retiring from the G.E. Company in March of 1982 and will be moving from Lenox, Mass., to Hendersonville, N.C., in June of '82.

1942

HANNAH CAMPBELL Boatwright lives in Newport News, Va., where she and her husband are in their second year of teaching second graders in Sunday school and are active members of the church; Hannah also sings in the choir. Her husband jogs three miles each day, and Hannah tries to get in one to two miles three or four times a week. They enjoy traveling as much as they can. Her husband is a dentist and they have a son.

SALLY MACKEY Godehn and Don stay busy in church and community activities. They have lived in Hendersonville, N.C., for over 35 years. Sally writes that she is hoping that her granddaughters will consider MBC, "...I know they will love it and enjoy it as I did."

From Lumberton, N.C., SUZANNE HUDSON MacLeod wrote that she was unable to attend her class reunion because she had fallen 16 feet from a second story platform and had to be hospitalized for several weeks recovering from a broken pelvis. Her husband is a Presbyterian minister and their three children are all away from home.

When BETTY BAILEY Hall wrote from Houston, Texas, she was in the midst of having her home painted in anticipation of putting it on the market and moving to Austin, Texas. They have plans to move after Adin's retirement and will be closer to their two grandchildren. Betty is an elder in the First Presbyterian Church, has served as president of the PTA and Pi Beta Phi alumnae, and belongs to the Women of the Church, and the American Bible Society. In the past she has belonged to many civic and community organizations. As if she hasn't been busy enough with her volunteer activities, Betty has recently completed a community college course, Introduction to Data Processing. Betty and Adin have three children.

After living in the same home for 27 years, PEARL EPLING Forsey has moved to a new address in Salt Lake City, Utah. Pearl has recently served as president of the Salt Lake Art Guild, is on the Art Center board and the YWCA board. They have three children and one granddaughter named Sarah Jane.

In Cocoa, Fla., MARY ANN JONES Rogers is busy in her church as an elder, deacon and trustee. She is also active in her local county library, state and county medical auxiliary, local hospital auxiliary, and other civic organizations. Mary Ann has retired from ten years of teaching at the community college and her husband is a retired surgeon. They are thoroughly enjoying retirement and are doing much traveling. Their daughter, The Rev. Ann Calvin (Cally) Rogers-Witte (MBC 67), is mother of Mary Ann and Elizabeth and is minister of Community United Church of Christ in Raleigh, N.C.

MARY LOUISE GORDON McKay lives in Battle Creek, Mich., but spends two or three months each winter in Florida, except when she is traveling with the "Nomads," an air travel club. Mary Louise has two sons and one daughter, all grown, and five grandchildren. She is a member of the Kimball House Museum Guild, church circle, and Women's Fellowship of United Church of Christ.

MARGARET BEAN Yeakle is a second grade teacher in Winchester, Va., and her husband is retired. They have three children and three grandchildren.

RAMONA COMPTON Ward and her husband Jay live in Los Angeles, Calif., where she is proprietor of Dudley Do-Right Emporium, a small fun shop with Jay Ward cartoon characters on various types of merchandise. Her husband is a TV cartoon producer and they have three children. Ramona writes of her interests: "I am into the Healing Arts. I am an acupressurist, Touch for Health teacher, past life regressioner and other allied fields. Still studying and acquiring skills which I use on humans as well as working with animals. Most satisfying work."

LESLIE SYRON lives in Raleigh, N.C., and is a professor of sociology at Meredith College.

KAY POERSCHKE Kennedy lives in Naples, Fla., and writes that she and Jim really enjoy life; golfing, boating, walking the beach, and the social activities in their condominium. They have two children, Bruce and Bonnie.

From Yorktown, Va., MARIAN HORNSBY Bowditch writes that she is on the board of the Yorktown Arts Foundation, is involved with Garden Club activities, and many more volunteer jobs that would be too numerous to mention. Marian has published a book, From the Kitchen at Hornsby House in Yorktown, Va.; has helped to establish a craftsman-artist co-op in Yorktown, now housing 41 different craftsmen and artists; is starting a museum on the waterfront as a "tribute to the working waterman," to include the tools of their trade. Marian's husband is an automobile dealer and they have four sons and four grandchildren.

JANET WERNER Harris and her husband moved to Fredericksburg, Texas, in 1980 after his retirement as an attorney and have been busy settling in since. Janet says Fredericksburg is a charming German community in the Texas Hill Country, and they love it! They have one son, Steve, who owns "Far Flung Adventures," a white water rafting guide and outfitter service on the Rio Grande.

ELIZABETH MCGRATH Anthony lives in Orleans, Mass., where she is a free-lance artist in woodcuts and watercolors. Her volunteer activities include the Museum of Natural History, Brewster Ladies Library, and the Hospital Branch Thrift Shop.

ELIZABETH CRAWFORD Crist of Bluefield, Va., is secretary for the regional manager of industrial and employee relations at the Consolidation Coal Company. Her husband is vice president of the Double Cola Bottling Co., and they have one son, John Jr.

ANN ATWELL is a social worker with the Madonna Neighborhood Centers in San Antonio, Texas. Ann's volunteer activities include the League of Women Voters, Bread for the World, and Volunteers in Education and Social Services.

JEAN ANDERSON Nicewander is a substitute teacher in the Staunton, Va., schools. Jean helps with the cancer and heart fund drives, is active in her church, and has helped with Girl Scouts. Her daughter is a kindergarten teacher in Staunton.

NANCY MCWHORTER Hurley lives in Silver Spring, Md., where she plays lots of tennis and bridge, travels frequently, and is active in her church. Her husband, George, is retired, son Douglas lives in Seattle, Wash., and daughter Carol lives in Brookline, Mass.

AMANDA HURST Ochse lives in San Antonio, Texas, and has two children. Her husband is owner of St. Anthony Hotel. Amanda is a council person, City of Terrell Hills, having served three terms; is past chairwoman of the Sunshine Cottage, a school for deaf children; is on the executive committee for the Boy Scouts of America, Alamo Area Council; board member, San Antonio Air Force Community Council Association of the United States Army; and has been president of a number of community and civic organizations.

BYRD HARRIS Martin lives in Orange, Calif., and is now retired. Byrd is working in several organizations, including DAR. Her hobby is genealogy, and she has three grandsons.

MARY BARTENSTEIN Faulkner tells us that her husband is retired from the Episcopal ministry and they live in Fredericksburg, Va. He is working to establish a retirement community there. Over the course of ten years, they have seen six foster children through adolescence. Mary and a group of Fredericksburg area residents are working to establish an informal organization for foster parents, prospective foster parents, and foster teenagers.

1943

ANN ELLEN GRAHAM Hazzard lives in Washington, D.C., and works part-time for a market research company.

MARGARET PRICE Pinson, Williamson, W. Va., writes that most of her children are scattered, but she still has one at home. She has one grandchild who is nearby.

From Richmond, Va., MARJORIE RIKER Kennedy writes that her husband is retired, and they have three grandchildren.

Jean Kay Rutherford Radcliffe of LaGrange, Ky., is very active in the Kentucky Daughters of the American Revolution and has three grandchildren.

IRMA SALINAS Rocha, Nuevo Leon, Mexico, writes that she is a syndicated columnist, writing weekly columns for newspapers throughout Mexico. She is a political writer, mainly concerned with the field of human rights on a national and international basis. She has a family of eight children and 21 grandchildren.

"SHENANDOAH SPRING" Alumnae Reunion Weekend 1982

The Board of Directors of the Alumnae Association of Mary Baldwin College is pleased to invite you to the 1982 Alumnae Reunion Weekend, May 14-16, 1982. With cooperation among many of the college's volunteers, staff, and local community agencies, as well as with current students and faculty, we are delighted to present our program of entertainment, relaxation, education, and sentiment to all alumnae, with special invitation issued to the classes celebrating milestone reunions or class cluster reunions:

1932-51-52-53-57-72-77-78

Alumnae Reunion Weekend most importantly provides returning alumnae the opportunity to reacquaint yourselves with your alma mater and your close friends from very special years past. At the same time, it serves to bring MBC back into your lives, with the single hope that you will continue to maintain an interest in the daily progress of this special institution. Your return to the campus bridges time and provides a bond which we believe will never be broken. Won't you share a weekend with a college community that always cares for its students—past, present, and future?

Susan Thompson Hoffman '64
President, MBC Alumnae Association

Ruth Hawkins Dey '59
Alumnae Board Reunion Coordinator

1982 CLASS CHAIRPERSONS

- | | |
|------|--|
| 1932 | Virginia Maben Stokes (Mrs. Marshall G.)
207 Morris Street, Blackstone, Virginia 23824
804/292-3835 |
| 1951 | Patsy Brown Schlick, (Mrs. Joseph A.)
608 Lovers Lane, Waynesboro, Virginia 22980
703/942-1488 |
| 1952 | Mary Lamont Wade (Mrs. Winfrey T.)
8410 Zell Lane, Richmond, Virginia 23229
804/288-6780 |
| 1953 | Ethel Smeak
325 Sherwood Avenue, Staunton, Virginia 24401
703/886-8071 |
| 1957 | Sara Burwell Robinson (Mrs. N. G.)
103 Stauffer Road, Severna Park, Maryland 21146
301/647-1815 |
| 1972 | Kathy Young Wetsel (Mrs. John, Jr.)
413 Fairmont Avenue, Winchester, Virginia 22601
703/667-7023 |
| 1977 | Karen Weyher
1321 Chetworth Court, Alexandria, Virginia 22314
703/549-5011 |
| 1978 | Lavalette Lacy
715 Madison Avenue, Charlottesville, Virginia 22901
804/295-3066 |
| | Catherine McKenney Harcus, (Mrs. Sinclair J.)
2406 Northfield Road, Charlottesville, Virginia 22901
804/973-7615 |
| | Lisa King
101 - 8 Ivy Drive, Charlottesville, Virginia 22901
804/296-3980 |

"SHENANDOAH SPRING"
Alumnae Reunion Weekend
Mary Baldwin College

SCHEDULE OF EVENTS

FRIDAY, MAY 14

- Noon-7:00 p.m. Registration. Lower Back Gallery, Administration. All meal tickets may be purchased at Registration Desk.
- Noon-2:00 p.m. Alumnae Open House.
- Admissions: Introduce your daughter to MBC. Special presentation, refreshments served. Overnight accommodations for prospective students during reunion weekend. Admissions Reception Room, Administration.
- Career Services: Alumnae seeking career information, alumnae career contacts, updating resumes, welcome to explore these opportunities with career services staff. Career Services, Upper Back Gallery, Administration.
- 2:30-6:00 p.m. Rendezvous with faculty and classmates. Wine and Cheese. Ye Merry Be Pub, Wengen Hall. (Bookstore will be open especially for alumnae.)
- 6:00-7:00 p.m. Catered Dinner. Italian Cuisine. Student Activities Center. Alumnae and guests, faculty and college officers.
- 7:30 p.m. Drama Rehearsal: "The Gingerbread Lady" by Neil Simon. Francis Auditorium. (Sneak preview of play, working conditions prevail, please have consideration for normal play conditions)
- Alumnae Art Display: Gallery, Grafton Library.
- 7:30-8:30 p.m. Alumnae Association Board of Directors Executive Committee Meeting. Reigner Room.

SATURDAY, MAY 15

- 8:00 a.m.-noon Registration for Saturday arrivals. Lower Back Gallery, Administration.
- 8:00-9:00 a.m. Breakfast "Eye-Opener." Hunt Lounge.
- 9:30-11:00 a.m. ALUMNAE COLLEGE. Francis Auditorium. "Minding Your Own Business" seminar series sponsored by Alumnae Board Continuing Education Committee. Panel of alumnae (see Alumnae College) and guest speaker Mrs. Joycelyn Martin Johnson, assistant district director for management assistance, U.S. Small Business Administration, Baltimore Office. Resource material from SBA will be available.
- 11:00-11:30 a.m. Tea and Croissants. Francis Auditorium Lobby.
- 11:30 a.m.-
12:30 p.m. National Alumnae Association Meeting. All alumnae are invited and encouraged to attend. Francis Auditorium. Presentation of Awards. Board of Directors Elections.
- 1:00-2:00 p.m. Alumnae Association Annual Luncheon. Hunt Hall. State of the College Address. President Virginia Lester. (Seating by class)
- 2:30-4:00 p.m. Walking Tour of Historic Staunton. Special tour of the renovated downtown area by MBC Alumna Kit Kivilighan Carter '44, Staunton Guide Service. Participants must sign up at Registration Desk. Depart from Administration Lower Back Gallery. Wear comfortable shoes.
- Board of Directors Meeting, Alumnae Association. Reigner Room.
- 5:30 p.m. President's Reception. Informal. President's Home.
- 6:30 p.m. Picnic Supper. Student Activities Center.
- 8:00-12:00 p.m. Class Parties. At pre-arranged locations.

SUNDAY, MAY 16

- 8:30-9:00 a.m. Chapel. Hunt Hall Lounge.
- 9:00-9:30 a.m. Breakfast. Hunt Hall.

REUNION RESERVATION FORM

Please detach and return to:
Alumnae Office, Mary Baldwin College, Staunton, Va. 24401

PLEASE PRINT:

Name: _____ Class: _____
First _____ Maiden _____ Last _____

Address: _____ Street _____ City _____ State _____ Zip Code _____

Phone/Home: _____ Phone/Business: _____

Spouse/Guest's Name: _____

RESERVATION DEADLINE: Wednesday, May 5, 1982 to be received by May 7

ADMISSION TO MEALS BY TICKET ONLY: tickets available at registration for advance reservations and tickets purchased at the door. (Choose total package or individual tickets)

PLEASE MAKE CHECK PAYABLE TO MARY BALDWIN COLLEGE and mail to:
Alumnae Office, Mary Baldwin College, Staunton, Va. 24401

(Please complete the table to the right in order to receive tickets at registration)

Total Weekend Package (includes all meals)
(Children under 8 years old admitted free of charge)

Friday, May 14	Wine and Cheese
	Catered Dinner. Italian Cuisine
Saturday, May 15	Breakfast and Bloody Marys
	Association Luncheon
	President's Reception
	Buffet Supper
	Class Party
Sunday, May 16	Breakfast

	No. People	Cost	Total
		$32.00
		NC
		$ 6.00
		$ 3.00
		$10.00
		NC
		$ 5.00
		$ 4.00
		$ 4.00

HOTEL RESERVATION INFORMATION

Classes are assigned by blocks of rooms, as listed below:

Class	Hotel	Phone
'32	Holiday Inn Downtown	703/886-3401
'51	Holiday Inn Downtown	703/886-3401
'52	Holiday Inn Downtown	703/886-3401
'53	Holiday Inn Downtown	703/886-3401
'57	Holiday Inn Downtown	703/886-3401
'72	Holiday Inn Downtown	703/886-3401
'77	Master Host Inn	703/885-0377
'78	Master Host Inn	703/885-0377

Alumnae must make their own reservations by calling the hotel directly. In order to be placed in the correct block of rooms, you must state your class year.

Call friends from your class to make your roommate arrangements. The college is not responsible for making roommate assignments.

Meals, room and bar service charged at the hotel are your own responsibility.

Registration desks are manned at the college only. Alumnae Board hostesses at registration will assist you in finding your hotel and class functions.

SPECIAL NOTICES

Husbands and guests: Are invited to attend any or all program segments. Should golf or tennis be of interest, facilities are available. Participants must provide their own equipment. Sign up for either at Registration Desk.

Faculty: Will be notified of weekend activities and are guests at Friday buffet supper. Special invitations you wish to issue must be handled by individual class reunion committees.

Children: The college is not responsible for providing babysitting service. Children under 8 years of age will be admitted free of charge.

Hotel/Motel accommodations: See Hotel Reservation Information.

Parking: Security will not ticket unregistered, legally parked cars on college property. However, cars parked in Fire Lanes, Tow Away, and No Parking zones will be towed.

SLATE OF NOMINEES FOR ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION

Board of Directors: 1982-83

Officers:

President: Brenda Nichol Goings '71, Charlottesville, Virginia

First Vice President: Leigh Yates '74, Richmond, Virginia

Vice President for Annual Giving: Jane Sheffield Maddux '72 (Mrs. John E.), Charlottesville, Virginia

Vice President for Continuing Education: Anne Graves Foster '76 (Mrs. W. Joe), Danville, Virginia

Members-at-Large:

Meredith Dunbar Carlson '60 (Mrs. James), Copake, New York

Kate Scott Jacob '50 (Mrs. N. Wescott), Onancock, Virginia

Mary Lauren Lehnertz '79, Dallas, Texas

Pamela Kent Pettus '72, Richmond, Virginia

Macon Clement Riddle '63 (Mrs. Hill C.), Roanoke, Virginia

Gardner Roller '73, Davidson, North Carolina

Sara Frances Ferrell Shay '40 (Mrs. Donald Emerson), Linthicum, Maryland

Jann Malone Steele '72, Richmond, Virginia

* * * * *

Published in accordance with the Constitution and By-Laws of the Mary Baldwin College Alumnae Association, Article V—Nominations, Elections, Section 2 and 3:

"Officers and Members of the Board of Directors shall be elected at the Annual Meeting. Terms of office shall commence on the first of July following the election."

Following the election of officers and members of the Board of Directors, the results shall be published and distributed to all members of the Association."

1944

PEG CREL Minicier recently wrote from Longwood, Fla., that they have been traveling a great deal to visit their children and grandchildren. After one of their golfing trips, they returned home to find their stamp collections had been stolen, and so far, they have not been recovered.

From Myrtle Beach, S.C., BETTY SMITH Chapman wrote that she had spent a week on Sanibel Island, Fla., with PAULA PARTRIDGE Willets.

1945

MARJORIE KINCAID Bartok of Richmond, Va., had the pleasure of being on the MBC campus recently for her daughter's induction into Phi Beta Kappa and the exciting honor of being chosen the Russell Scholar for her senior year. It was a proud and happy day for all.

NANCY NETTLETON Rood is teaching kindergarten in Shelton, Conn. They really enjoy their little granddaughter, Katie.

In Dallas, Texas, SARA LEE CABELL Pavey stays busy with her many civic and community concerns. They have recently opened an art gallery and are representing a number of internationally known artists. Sarah also serves as president of the Texas Women's Association for Symphony Orchestras, is the liaison between Dallas Symphony and the American Symphony Orchestra League. She and husband George travel as much as time will permit.

CAROL SAULSBURY Moore and Draden are now living in Southport, N.C., since he retired. He is now in marketing with Buck Timberlake at Bald Head Island. They have done over an old home and love it!

From Lake Waccamaw, N.C., BETTY NEISLER Timperlake writes that she is so pleased to have Draden and CAROL SAULSBURY Moore in Southport. They have recently had a great visit with Ralph and SALLY SMITH Metzger.

KAY BARRETT Oates and husband have just celebrated their 35th anniversary, and they are so happy! They live in Waco, Texas, and are thoroughly enjoying their grandchildren.

CARMEN HAYES Anderson, Texas City, Texas, writes that she and Alan had a nice visit with ANNE WARREN CHURCHMAN Brown in Washington last April.

1946
From Jackson, Miss., LILLIE JEAN TRIMBLE Turner writes about her family in a recent note. They finally have a grandchild — a little girl born to their son and his wife in Jackson. They also have a married daughter living in Jackson, and one living in Fayetteville, Ark. Their youngest daughter recently graduated from Mount Vernon College.

CHARLOTTE TILLEY Sorrell of Durham, N.C., sends news of her daughters: CAROL ANNE SORRELL Strawbridge '71 is now living in Rochester, N.Y., and CARLENE SORRELL CLEMENTS '76 is a corporate executive with AT&T in Denver, Colo.

MARILYN WEST Price lives in Lexington, Va., conducts an exercise class twice a week and enjoys it immensely. Their four children are all "on their own" and doing well.

MARGARET DAVIS Evans has recently opened a travel agency in Cherry Hill, N.J., and is having a great time!

1947
MARY GRAVES KNOWLES Hamilton is Director of Alumnae Services at Stuart Hall in Staunton, Va. Her daughter, Ann, is in graduate school at UCLA, and Tom, is at U. Va. and working on The Cavalier Daily.

VIRGINIA STEMDAN White, San Marcos, Texas, is a member of the Child Welfare Board and is involved in a therapy program for parents of abused and neglected children.

MARIANNA JAMISON Leach spent three weeks in Scotland recently, concluding a student exchange program. Her son, William, is a law student at U. Va., and daughter, Mary Hunter, is a paralegal in Dallas. Marianna lives in Leesburg, Va.

EMILY HUNDLEY writes from Lebanon, Ky., that her mother broke her hip a year ago (on her father's birthday), so Emily goes to her nursing home twice a day to help. Her father is 97 years old.

NAN DONEY Clausel lives in San Antonio, Texas, and is a lay reader and a vestrywoman at St. Mark's Episcopal Church. Nan is singing with the San Antonio Symphony Mastersingers and is looking forward to two concerts in the spring.

We have just learned from VIRGINIA WARNER Munce that she has a new job as public relations director of the Presbyterian School of Christian Education. Many MBC alumnae attended this school after MBC and there are many other ties with MBC through the church. Virginia sees many friends — and friends of friends — every day!

1948

ELIZABETH BLANCHARD Wilgus writes from Rocky Mount, N.C., that after commuting to Greenville for two and a half years, "...through hail, sleet, snow, heat and/or dark of night, I have an MLS to call my own and am a librarian at North Carolina Wesleyan College."

HELEN KINSER Moncure of Newark, Del., tells us that her son, George, has received his Ph.D. in geochemistry and is living in Oklahoma with his wife, Jeanne. Her son, John, is doing graduate work in history at Cornell, and his wife is in school in foreign languages.

From Eden, N.C., ELLEN ESKRIDGE Groseclose writes that her daughter, Martha, is in Newport News, Va.; Sally is in Washington; and Ann is at home and a high school senior.

From New Carrollton, Md., JACQUELYN KIMREY Siler writes that she is enjoying her part-time job as bookkeeper for the Presbyterian Home.

1949

Nags Head, N.C., was the scene of a grand reunion of '49ers recently including JULIA JOHNSTON Belton, ANN ASHBY Helms, NANCY RAWLS Watson, VIRGINIA NURNEY Harlow, BETTY ANNE HARRELL Kyle, BETTY ANNE BARKER Fraser, GWEN AUSTIN Brammer and husbands. According to Gwen, there was lots of "catching up" and remembering. Gwen's daughter, KAREN AUSTIN '72, is doing well in Hollywood and has recently been in a movie with Blake Edwards titled "S.O.B." has several commercials running, has been seen on Hart to Hart, Soap, The Last Resort, Three's Company, and others. She is now starring as Kate in "The Taming of the Shrew" at L.A. Theatre Globe Playhouse. Daughter Leah and husband have a son, Brendan Brammer. Gwen had lots of fun working as an extra in the movie, "The Mating Season."

MARY ALLEN PHILLIPS Indence of Huntington, N.Y., has been working with children who have learning disabilities and emotional problems and their parents. She has also been the director of a self-study group and on the advisory board of the Heuristic Center in East Hampton, N.Y. Husband Pat is a sales manager for Binney and Smith. They have three sons, Jeff, Jimmy, and Johnny.

EMILY OGBURN Doak of Greenville, Tenn., writes that her husband, Sam, has retired from the Navy and they are enjoying re-doing his mother's home and traveling.

JULIA JOHNSTON Belton, Cocoa, Fla., also wrote about the "old friends' reunion" at Nags Head. As she said, they talked, laughed, showed family pictures, ate, drank, danced, and had a fantastic time! Next "reunion" planned for 1983 in New Orleans or Houston.

From Richmond, Va., ELIZABETH RAWLS Macklin sends news of her husband who was recently appointed general manager of corporate research and development at Reynolds Metal Company. Also, the College of Engineering of VPI&SU selected Harold to serve with honor a life appointment on the Committee of 100 whose purpose it is to further communication between the institution and the professional practice of engineering.

1950

LOUISE RHETT Perry lives in Charleston, S.C., and has two children, Riddell Jr., and Rhett.

MARY WOOD McCormick, Staunton, Va., sends word of her daughter, SARAH McCORMICK Turner '73, who has recently moved from Richmond, Va., to Pickerington, Ohio. Granddaughter is Elizabeth Britton Turner.

PATRICIA MARSH Belleville of Bridgeton, N.J., writes with pride that she now has her first grandson, Christopher, who joins his sister, Katie.

1951

LILIAN BEDINGER Taylor stays busy in Nanjemoy, Md., with the Charles County Children's Aid Society and various church activities. Arnold is an Episcopal priest at an old (1692) rural parish 30 miles from Washington, D.C. They have three children: Alice is secretary to the assistant bishop of Washington; Laura works for the Pennsylvania Public Interest Coalition; Tom is in college.

In Birmingham, Mich., JANE MOUDY Van Dragt stays very busy! She has been a reader for the blind students at Wayne State University (any and all subjects) for about 20 years. She held various jobs and offices in the Women's Association, First Presbyterian Church; recording secretary, finance chairman, Church Women United delegate, circle leader; editor and assistant sewing advisor for Detroit Presbytery Association; philanthropy chairman and publicity chairman for local alumnae chapter of Delta Zeta Sorority; as well as being volunteer reader/programmer of Time magazine. Her husband, Harold, has been a high school math teacher for 30 years.

From Chapel Hill, N.C., PAT HOSHALL Jacoway writes that she is very interested in Bible studies for women, particularly the Bible Study Fellowship which is beginning in the Durham-Chapel Hill area, and she enjoys playing tennis. Husband John is professor in the department of oral diagnosis at the University of North Carolina Dental School. Son, Bob, is a computer operator.

JANE STANLEY Chislett writes from Prospect, Ky., that she and her family have lived in 11 different locations and she has been an active volunteer in numerous activities. Her husband is a sales representative with Alcoa, and they have two children, Jack and Meg.

JOYE WITHERSPOON Brown lives in Roanoke Rapids, N.C., where she is assistant secretary/treasurer of the Roanoke Rapids Savings and Loan Association. Her husband is division office manager for J.P. Stevens, Inc. They have two children, Sanford and Wayne.

JUNE BEASLEY Mann is a housewife and mother in Marianna, Ark. June is on the board of Lee Memorial Hospital, a member of the Chamber of Commerce, is active in her church and Meals on Wheels. Her husband is a farmer and they have four children, June, Louise, Burkley, and Bill.

LYNN DAZET Lipsey is a homemaker in Blacksburg, Va., and mother of Crawford, Lisa, and John. Lynn's husband is an emergency room physician at Shenandoah County Hospital. Lynn is docent chairman at Smithfield Plantation House.

DONNA DAVIS Browne is owner of The Double Eagle, a china and gift shop in Joplin, Mo. Donna has three children, Kathy, Becky, and Beau.

JOAN BUFF Chiles is a homemaker in Greenville, S.C., and mother of Donna, R.W. Jr., and Brian, and grandmother of Ryan. Joan's husband is manager of the Sherwin Williams Paint Company.

AILEEN LOTT lives in Cape Canaveral, Fla., and is a technical writer at the Kennedy Space Center in Florida. She is active on the Board of Deacons and Board of Trustees of Riverside Presbyterian Church.

MARY LUTZ Grantham lives in Roswell, N.M., where she is active in the Symphony Guild, YMCA, United Fund, and a variety of other fund-raising drives. She writes that they will not be at the reunion because they are tour directors of the International Needlepoint Association in Monaco being held May 4-26. Her husband is a retired U.S. Naval officer and a partner in the Hello World Travel Agency. They have twins, Dianne and Ned.

CAROLYN PLEASANTS Eden writes from Montgomery, Ala., that her son, Tommy, has graduated cum laude from Cumberland Law School, has passed his bar exams and is now an attorney with a law firm in Atlanta, Ga.; their youngest son is Steve. Her husband, Tom stepped down from the presidency of the Montgomery Lions Club recently in time to take over as director of the Montgomery Lions International Youth Camp.

EILEEN GREGORY Murphy of Virginia Beach, Va., writes that her daughter, Alison, is now married to John Allen Fears and is living in Houston, Texas.

From St. Paul, Minn., ALLETTA JERVEY Hudgens writes that she is working on a Ph.D. in family social science at the University of Minnesota. Aletta is an instructor at the university, and a marriage and family therapist. She has three children, Peter, Mary, and Helen.

DIANE PRETTMAN DeWall is a free-lance writer for the Dayton, Ohio, area magazines and newspapers, and her husband is a thoracic surgeon. Their children are Beth, Amy, and Melissa. Diane is active in the Junior League, Philharmonic, Kappa Gamma Fraternity.

MARIA CASSERES De Gonzalez, Barranquilla, Colombia, is a part-time regional secretary for Youth For Understanding, and her husband is a gynecologist and obstetrician. She sent news of her two daughters. PATRICIA GONZALEZ, MBC '73, has received her Ph.D. from the University of Texas and is teaching Spanish at Smith College. Lillian is in her last year of medical school.

ESTHER LEE COBBS Rencher lives in Fairhope, Ala., and is busy with the Opera Auxiliary, Eastern Shore Art Association, Board of Institute of Lifelong Learning, Art Patron's League, Board of Eastern Shore Symphony Auxiliary, and numerous activities related to the children's school. Her husband is a pathologist.

BETTY WHITE TALLEY of Petersburg, Va., is an active volunteer at Petersburg General Hospital, belongs to the choir and United Methodist Women at St. Mark's Church. Her husband is president of William H. Tally and Son, general insurance and financial planning. Their son, William H. Tally, IV, is also an associate with the firm. Daughter Lisa is associated with Vista Travel Service; Mel is a VMI student; and Kathryn is a high school freshman.

ANN HEFNER Lacy lives in Dallas, Texas, and is a volunteer with "Old City Park" (Dallas County Heritage Society, Inc.) and the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts. Her husband is a financial consultant, and they have two daughters, Ellen and Anita.

MARY LOU CHRISTIE Schroeder is enjoying life in Greenwich, Conn. She is a homemaker and a volunteer social worker with a local agency. Her husband is a consultant, and they have four children, Martha, Nancy, Diane, and Pam. Mary Lou and David were planning a trip to Padre Island National Seashore, Texas, when we last heard, and upon returning home would celebrate their 30th wedding anniversary with the family.

SHIRLEY JOHNSON Bowman, Anderson, S.C., is vice president of Bo-S-Aire Airlines. Her husband is president of the airlines, and they have three children and nine grandchildren.

BETTY STAMEY Shelley writes from Charlotte, N.C., that she is active in her church and the local hospital auxiliary. Betty became a widow in 1974 when her husband died from burns received in an Eastern crash, and her oldest son was one of the VMI students killed in an automobile accident in 1977. Betty still has two children, Virginia and Marty, both of whom graduated from UNC and are gainfully employed.

In Asheville, N.C., CHARLOTTE JACKSON Lunstrom has received the "Woman of the Year" award (1981-82) for Asheville-Buncombe County. In the past Charlotte has been very active in many community and civic organizations. Currently she is involved in the French Broad River Garden Club, Children's Welfare League, American Red Cross, the United Way, is the only female member of the board of directors of Wachovia Bank and Trust Company, Asheville Symphony Society, Board of Trustees of Mary Baldwin College, and Board of Visitors of Western Carolina University. In addition to the "Woman of the Year" award, Charlotte has been named in various "Who's Who" publications throughout the country, one of six "Outstanding Volunteers in Buncombe County" (1974), Big "A" Award (1976) by Asheville Area Chamber of Commerce (first and only female to receive this award). Charlotte has two children, Lewis and Elizabeth.

From Terre Haute, Ind., BARBARA CONLON Miescher writes that she hopes to be able to attend this year's reunion. Barbara is an active volunteer with the YWCA, Community Theater, her church and the Girl Scouts. Her husband is director of fermentation, biological research, with International Mineral and Chemical Company. They have a daughter who is a graduate student in endocrinology at Colorado State University.

LORRAINE WELLER Dalby writes from Wayne, Pa., that her husband is retired, but she is still teaching. Their son is in the U.S. Navy, and their daughter is in medical school.

PATTY ANDREW Goodson, Newport News, Va., is active in her church and garden club, is learning to play golf, attends the Community Bible Series, attends an exercise class, and occasionally takes a mini-class at a local college. Patty's husband is vice president of Warwick Plumbing and Heating. Their children are Patty, Royden, and Pax.

BETTY HARWOOD Copland lives in Charles City, Va., and is director of the York/Popponesset Social Services Board. Her husband is self-employed in the trucking business. They have five children.

NANCY KUNKLE Carey writes from Staunton, Va., that she is busy working part time for two businesses. Henry opened the Care International truck business 13 years ago but just recently opened the Ford tractor business. They have a daughter, Susan Virginia.

JACQUELINE McCLENNEY Hamilton of Pittsburgh, Pa., is an active volunteer in St. David's Episcopal Church and is craft director for the Campfire Girls. Her husband is an engineer and their daughter, Holly, is in high school.

PATSY WILSON Hitch is mother and homemaker in Tyler, Texas. Her children are Chris and Richard. Chris recently ran Padre Island (150 miles in four days!). As some of you may know, Patsy has leukemia and says that she is doing fine; the chemotherapy seems to have it under control. Our best wishes to Patsy and family.

1952

JANE WOODRUFF Lucas sends news of her family from Charlotte, N.C. Daughter Cam has returned to UNC for her master's in English; son Bob is at Duke; and Dan is at Appalachia State University.

BECKY DANIZER Shell lives in Boerne, Texas, and is part-owner and manager at a riding shop in San Antonio. Husband Dillon is a developer/builder in Boerne. Becky has served as president of the Texas Dressage Society. Their children are Ann and Robert.

MARCELLE MCCLINTOCK Brown lives in Marianna, Ark., and writes that their children are all living in Arkansas. Marcelle has her first grandchild, son of Pat and Patty in Batesville, where he works for Eastman Kodak. Janet and her husband are continuing their college studies, and Larry is an organic chemist with Arkansas Eastman.

From Gloucester, Va., PATSY DeHARDIT Hicks writes that her daughter, Patti Dee (MBC '80) was married last June to Wes Shull. Her son, Bob, is an attorney in Washington, D.C.; John is at U. Va., and Paula is in high school.

MARGARET KING Stanley is very busy running one of the largest arts organizations in the city of San Antonio, Texas. She began as a volunteer of the San Antonio Performing Arts Association. They bring many groups to San Antonio, including the Joffrey Ballet, the Los Angeles Philharmonic, the Vienna Choir, the Ballet Folclorico from Mexico and other dance, theatre, and music presentations of national and international importance.

PENNY WATSON Scott lives in Anderson, S.C., where her husband is with Duke Power Company. They have two children, Penny and Ann.

ANN BROWN Lammers of St. Joseph, Mo., is an active volunteer with the United Way, YWCA Family Guidance, Junior League, and LUBA. Ann is secretary for Junior Achievement. Her husband is vice president with an advertising agency, and they have four children, Amy, Ann, Abby, and Peter.

MARY WILSON Benthal lives in Vonore, Tenn., where her husband is a regional archeologist in the Department of Conservation for the State of Tennessee. They have a son named Sam.

JULIA BUDWELL Barbara lives in Sarasota, Fla., and is the mother of two, John and Mary.

LYNN LYTTON Hamer is active in her church and garden club in Charlottesville, Va. Her husband is an orthodontist and they have three children, Chuck, Cathy, and David.

MARY LAMONT Wade, Richmond, Va., is active with MBC's alumnae, the Learning Disabilities Council, VCU Child Study Center, Republican Party, Virginia Citizens Planning Association, Meals on Wheels, and is a member of the Henrico County Planning Commission. Her husband is an attorney, and they have two children: Lamont, an architect, and Suzanne, who is job hunting and traveling.

CONNIE DETRICK Lamons is office manager of Lamons Sales Company, and her husband is President in Greeneville, Tenn. Connie is past president of the Greeneville Little Theatre and is a church circle leader. Son Frank works with his father, Jenny is with an oil auditing firm, Cindy is at U. Va., and spending some time studying in England.

BARBARA SANFORD Smith is a Bruton Parish Church guide and her husband is director of exhibition buildings for the Colonial Williamsburg Foundation. They live in Williamsburg, Va., and have two children: Sallie, a student at U. Va., and Jennie who is attending William and Mary.

JANE FRIEZE Haggerty lives in Springfield, Ill., where she is a homemaker and a member of the Eagle Forum. Her husband is a surgeon, and they have four children: Becki, Lisa, Phillip, and Leila.

From Boyce, Va., BETTY GWALTNEY Schutte writes that she is president of the Winchester-Clarke Garden Club and is area manager for Tanner Company. Her husband is an insurance sales manager. Both of their sons, Charles and John, are graduates of the University of Virginia, and daughter, Elizabeth, is a freshman there this year.

MARIE BELLE PAYNE Graham of Mankato, Minn., is a secretary for Grace Lutheran Church, and husband Robert is professor of chemistry at Mankato State University. They have a daughter, Leslie Kathryn.

JOY CHAPOTON Ramsey and her physician husband live in Abilene, Texas. Joy is president of the Junior League, a member of the medical auxiliary and the Philharmonic Guild. They have four children: David, a computer programmer; John, a dental student; Chap, a college sophomore; and Lauren, 4th grader.

CARLINE LOBITZ Davis, Bellaire, Texas, and husband Howard recently attended an Old Dominion Party held for many Virginia-area schools, but they were unable to locate others from MBC. Carline is a music instructor, and Howard is supervisor of industrial relations with Houston Light and Power Company. Carline has four children and two stepchildren.

JOAN POSTON Barton is a homemaker in Memphis, Tenn.; John is senior vice president for employee benefits with E.H. Crump Company. Joan is active in the Junior League, the Symphony League of Memphis, and the Woman's Exchange. They have three children, John, Stephen, and James.

Jim and MARGARET McLAUGHLIN Grove of Charlottesville, Va., have been traveling; trips to Scotland, England, and Ireland, and hopefully they will be going to Italy in May! Margaret stays busy in the Junior League, board of Tuesday Evening Concert, Bayly Museum docent, CHIP steering committee, and the MBC alumnae board. She is an academic secretary at St. Anne's Belfield School, and her husband is an investment broker. Their children are Mary and John.

NANCY WILEMON Smith lives in Ft. Worth, Texas, and has three married daughters and five grandchildren. Nancy is on the board of trustees of Harris Hospital, is a board member of First United Methodist Church, and has served on various other city boards over the years. Her husband is in real estate and investments.

In Boulder, Colo., MARIANE STANFORD Thornburg is a homemaker and mother of Gibson and Holly. Her husband is a bank president.

JOYCE ACKER Ratliff, Birmingham, Ala., is active in the Junior League, on the board of Girls' Club, president of Baptist Women, and WMU director. Her husband is assistant to the president of Collateral Investment Company. Their children are James, William, and Bryan, and they have one grandson.

ANNE TOOLE Cottingham received her degree in counseling last spring and was awarded a two-year residency by her employer, the Pastoral Counseling and Education Center. Her husband is president of Cottingham Corporation, a machinery parts business. They live in Dallas, Texas, and have two children: Wade is a computer programmer, and Jim is a retinsher for Joske's Department Store.

From Augusta, Ga., JESSICA GILLIAM Boatwright writes that she is a self-employed pen and ink illustrator, doing design renderings of homes, businesses, churches, and advertisement brochures. In addition, Jessica writes some poetry for a local magazine. Her husband is an insurance agent with Metropolitan. Jessica has four children and five stepchildren, and one grandchild. Jessica lists Meals on Wheels and Hospice, Inc. as her volunteer interest.

BETSY BOOTH, New York, N.Y., is training service director with Gibbs Consulting. They perform studies or offices on procedures, automated systems, word processing, and training needs. This requires a fair amount of traveling, which Betsy likes. Betsy writes that she has resumed her Monday night boarding house dinners to which friends may come and bring friends, the concept being "a circle of friends." Conversation is stimulating and different — and they have fun!

When PAT CASEY Del Rose returned her reunion questionnaire, she and Harry were planning a trip on the Mississippi Queen which has been a lifetime ambition for Pat. She had a good visit with ANN SCHLOSSER in San Antonio after Christmas and recently attended PATSY DEHARDT Hicks' daughter's wedding in Gloucester. Has also seen PATTY MANN Burr, FRAN HAFER Chiles, and ANN PERSON Baylor. Their children, Charlotte Paula and Patricia Lorraine, are both in college. Pat is medical technologist and medical records supervisor and receptionist at Southern Methodist University Memorial Health Center. Harry is owner of Professional Travel Service. They live in Dallas, Texas.

ANN GREER Kidd, Tyler, Texas, lists as her volunteer activities the blood bank, Symphony, Junior League, and Pi Beta Phi Sorority. Her husband is a self-employed oilman, and Ann has two children, Richard and Thomas, and two stepsons.

From Fredericksburg, Va., EMILY MITCHELL Williamson writes that she is past president of the Mary Washington Hospital Auxiliary, past board member of the Pratt Chapter of Virginia Mental Health Association, and plays duplicate bridge. Emily is also a part-time bookkeeper, and her husband is vice president of Fredericksburg Savings and Loan. Their children are: Ann, a flight attendant with Delta Air Lines; Jane to enter graduate school in the fall, and Scott is a student at Hampden-Sydney College.

HELEN TILSON Fletcher lives in Staunton, Va., where she is a homemaker and mother of Laura, Anne, and Beth, and grandmother of Benjamin David. Her husband is supervisor of medical counseling for the Department of Vocational Rehabilitation, State of Virginia. Helen is a Sunday school teacher, is on the United Way board and the Child Care Center board, and is active in her church.

ALICE BALL Watts writes from San Antonio, Texas, that she is taking her first course in free enterprise. Alice is pleased to see ANN SCHLOSSER often, as she lives just a short drive away. Alice is a Spanish and English teacher at R.G. Cole High School and her husband is vice president (real estate loan officer) of the Republic Bank. Their children are George, Betsy, and Mary Alice.

DOROTHY SMITH Purse is a homemaker in El Paso, Texas, and is active in her church and the Republican Party. Her husband is president of State National Plaza Corporation and vice president of State National Bank of El Paso. They have three children, Mary, Paula, and Louise.

1953

JEANNE SHERRILL Boggs is a homemaker in Statesville, N.C., and mother of Robert Jr., Jennifer, William, and Suzanne. Her husband is president of Boggs Motor Company. Jeanne is a volunteer with Meals on Wheels, the cancer drive, and the March of Dimes.

DOROTHY (Dartee) NDWELL Gayner is a real estate broker in Brunswick, Ga., and her husband is a partner in a law firm. Dartee recently appeared with her husband in a community theatre production — her first since MBC days! She is also active in the YWCA, Easter Seals, Island Players (community Little Theatre), and church work. Daughter Kathryn is at Phillips Academy in Andover, Mass.

ESTELLE KAUFFMAN Kohn writes from Miami Beach, Fla., that she has been interviewing Holocaust survivors on audio and videotape for historical archives. She is also a volunteer for political candidates, consumer group (grass roots), and ACLU. Her husband has had his own CPA firm for over 25 years — they have been married for 28 years! Daughter Pam is attending Tufts University; Alfred is working in Boston for a public interest research group.

JO ANN THACKER West is a second grade teacher in Roanoke, Va., and her husband is owner/partner of Woodward-West, Ltd., an interior design, home furnishings construction and remodeling firm. Her volunteer activities are limited now to church and professional involvement. They have one son, Norvell Winston.

MARY JO SHILLING Shannon, Roanoke, Va., is director of the Early Learning Center of the Specific Reading and Learning Difficulties Association. Harry is engineer of buildings with Norfolk and Western Railway, and they have three children, Harry, Kathy, and John.

PAT TIBBALS Schnack lives in Honolulu, Hawaii, and is mediator for the "Neighborhood Justice Center," an agency which settles community disputes out of court. Her husband is a psychiatrist, and they have five children, Jacqueline, Randall, Marjorie, and twins, Cynthia and Carolyn.

MARIAN HILL Artz is another alumna living in Honolulu, Hawaii. Marian is director of advertising and her husband is president of Liberty House Fine Jewelry. They enjoy traveling, including trips to China, Taiwan, Hong Kong, Japan, Fiji, Australia, and New Zealand. Marian has three children and three stepchildren.

MARTHA (Marti) BARNETT Beal lives in Gastonia, N.C., and is active in her church and Junior League. Martie is secretary for Chelsea House and secretary treasurer for Port Royal, Inc., picture and wall accessories manufacturers. Giles is self-employed in real estate, and they have three children, Giles III, Helen, and Lee.

From Fredericksburg, Va., WEBER STONER Taylor writes that she is very busy with a four generation family. "Raising children was nothing compared to this!" Weber is an active volunteer with the Salvation Army Advisory Board, personal counseling, and Bible study groups. Husband Edward is a farm owner and operator, and their children are Letcher Dan, Weber Jane, and Beth Page.

"B.T." EBERHART Spillman of Radford, Va., is a homemaker and mother of Beth, Linda, Susan, Todd, and Shirley. "B.T." stays busy in her church and local and state volunteer activities. Her husband Blair is a physician.

MARGARET GARRETT Corsa lives in Walnut Creek, Calif., and writes that her daughter, Ann, has been attending Mills College, and Mark is at San Diego State. Kathy and Peter are still at home.

NELLE McCANTS Smith loves working in her gift shop (Nelle's Harbour Shop) in Hilton Head Island, S.C. Her husband, John, has a real estate company, in addition to his public relations firm. Daughter, Ora Elliott, after two years at MBC is now attending the University of South Carolina; son Spencer is in law school; Getty (the oldest son) graduated from the University of Arizona and is now working in Los Angeles.

POLLY ROBERTS Burge has recently moved to Pensacola, Fla., and is enjoying semi-retirement life. Her husband is self-employed as a management consultant. Son John works for public radio in Louisville, Ky.; Delene is married and living in St. Louis, Mo.; Eric is a student at the University of Wyoming; Kurt is in the Army; and Karen is in college in St. Louis.

BETTY ANN RANKIN Hunsucker is a homemaker in High Point, N.C., and mother of Betsy and Hank. Betty Ann also has two grandchildren, who spend a lot of time with her — and she loves it! Her husband is president of Highland Yarn Mill.

JO ANNE VAMES Stamus lives in Roanoke, Va., as a homemaker and mother of Annette, Stephanie, and Melanie. Her husband is district sales manager for Nationwide Insurance. Jo Anne is active in her church, is a Sunday school teacher, and works for the Heart Fund.

1954

Brian and ELEANOR "Lee" YEAKLEY Gardner of Bellevue, Wash., recently enjoyed a two-week vacation in London, Paris, and Germany when he was sent to London on business. Business first, then vacation! They are enjoying their grandson. Debbie is attending the University of Washington, and Brian is at Western Washington University.

CONNIE HEADAPOHL Pikaart lives in Athens, Ohio, and writes that they are enjoying their granddaughter. All four of their children live in Ohio, so they can visit often.

1955

From Waynesboro, Pa., ELLEN STICKELL Bare writes that she is busy teaching and has been stage manager for the area education association's productions for the benefit of a scholarship fund. The highlight of her year was the birth of her first grandchild.

ELEANOR HARWELL Thomsen of Wheaton, Ill., is enjoying her part-time job as church secretary. Eleanor has three daughters, Ann, Julia, and Hope.

1956

SALLY LANDER Edwards and Bill live in Corpus Christi, Texas. Their daughter will soon graduate from law school and will then go to practice with her father.

MARGARET ADAIR Atmar writes from Houston, Texas, that her son has graduated from Baylor Medical College; daughters, Margaret and Katherine are married, and Emily is attending Texas A&M.

MARJORIE MOWL Jago lives in Santa Barbara, Calif., and is studying Spanish at her local junior college, she is amazed at how much she remembers of the language since her MBC days. Marjorie has three sons.

PATRICIA BOWIE Davis has written from Harlingen, Texas, about her family. Dick is busy at his law office. Rick is attending the University of Texas and plans to go on to law school; Andy is also at the University of Texas; Jeff is busy with basketball. Pat is an active volunteer for the Cancer Society.

1957

From Summit, N.J., BETSEY TOWLER Robson writes that her son, Kenneth, III, is a graduate of W&L and backpacked through Europe for 11 weeks. Daughter Susan has received her degree from Davis and Elkins College. Martha is at MBC, Class of '85. Betsey vacationed with CLAIRE TOWERS Rice '56 and ELLEN GIBSON Shaw, in Greenville and had a wonderful reunion!

MARY LOU WELLS Powell is a professor in the psychology department at Appalachian State University in Boone, N.C. Mary Lou was awarded a Summer Faculty Fellowship by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and was assigned to the Training and Educational Services Branch of the Personnel Division at Langley Research Center in Hampton, Va., from June 1 through Aug. 8, 1981.

HELEN THOMPSON Sharpley is a bookkeeper at The Cottage Shop in Savannah, Ga., and her husband is vice president of Johnson, Lane, Space, and Smith. Her children are Schley, Elizabeth and Liesl.

TINA CACCIAPIAGLIA Naylor is a homemaker and mother of Joe and Bill in Fairfax Station, Va. Her husband is a self-employed construction and development consultant. Tina is planning to go back to teaching as a substitute.

BRYANT POPE Pilcher sees a number of other MBC alumnae, including SALLY SQUIRES Erickson, at the tennis court or Woman's Club almost weekly, and she also sees ANN FOWLKES Dodd, PAT HENDERSON Williams, and MARGARET COLE Chappell. Bryant's husband is an orthopedic surgeon. Their daughter, Kathryn, is a junior at MBC; Rob, III, is at St. Christopher's; and Sarah is in fifth grade.

ANN DENNY Barrington of Dallas, Texas, is director of the mail order advertising department at Neiman-Marcus, and her husband is retired from banking.

In Davidson, N.C., ANN KENNEDY Melton finds that her days run out of hours too soon, and she has packed into them work as an elder in her church and a Sunday school superintendent, cook, vegetable and flower gardener, and is a member of a "zany" slimmatics class. Julius' work at the college has been expanded into some new areas, and he has many community involvements, as well as riding "circuit" to pastorless churches occasionally. Mary Cambria is a sophomore at Davidson; Catherine Ann has been accepted at Davidson for next year; William Dudley is in the fourth grade.

PEGGY JORDSTAD Lucas, Waynesboro, Va., is active in her church, local theatre group, and serves as part of the headquarters staff during political campaigns. Her husband is staff assistant with DuPont. Cathie is a junior at VCU in Richmond, and Paige is a freshman at VPI.

Keeping busy running their home in Dallas, Texas, CARLA SUE RUCKER Nix is still involved in many volunteer activities, including her church, PTA, Scouts, Craig Class Lectures, Dallas Needwork and Textile Guild, book club, and garden club. Carla is also a partner in a small decorating business, The Re-Arrangers. Joe is a self-employed commercial realtor. Daughter Rebekah is at the Colorado School of Mines; Carl is in high school; and John is in middle school.

CAROLYN GASSMAN Simon is librarian at the Austin, Texas, public library. She is an emergency medical technician with the Hudson Bend Volunteer Fire Department, a CPR instructor, and is also training coordinator and publicity writer for the fire department. Carolyn also breeds beagles. Her husband is an accountant, and their children are: Steve, a graduate student at MIT, and Debbie, currently enrolled in Boston Paralegal Institute.

BEVERLY BISHOP Tanner is a homemaker in Victoria, Texas, is active in her church, and is on the board of a private school. She writes on her questionnaire, "I had a triple by-pass last summer, now my heart is 20 years old, but the rest of the body is failing apart! Enjoying our children, Trey and Tod, and golf, hunting, and fishing." Her husband is owner of a real estate and investment firm.

1958

JUDY GALLUP Armstrong is a realtor in Staunton, Va., and her daughter, Debbie, runs track, plays the piano and clarinet.

ANN MURFEE Lanier is selling real estate in Prattville, Ala. Larry, her husband, recently retired from the USAF, and Ann writes that it is so good to be finally settled down in one place! Their oldest son is married; one daughter attends Auburn University; the youngest daughter is in high school.

BARBARA BELL Rermen, New York, N.Y., is finishing her psychiatric training this summer, and is continuing to study psychoanalysis. Barbara is looking forward to opening her private practice in Manhattan.

MINIFRED BAYLES Trigg writes from Bastrop, Texas, that her son, Lance, is married and has a baby. Daughter, Margaret, is in high school, and son Chub is 13.

PATRICIA GWYNN Taft lives in Canandaigua, N.Y., and is teaching full-time learning disabled, educable, mentally retarded children. She is working on a master's degree in early childhood. Gus is in a new job, marketing and communications director at Scientific Calculations.

ULLI DE LA GARZA Abdo writes from Monterrey, Mexico, that she and her husband are making plans to become residents of the United States.

1959

SANDRA ESQUVEL Snyder is a ninth grade teacher in Dallas, Texas. Bill is assistant professor of surgery at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School. They both enjoy their cabin in Colorado whenever possible, as well as their children, Eddie and Will.

MCHESNEY MAYER Grabau continues to love Arlington, Va., and writes that her children are all growing up. Her oldest is a registered nurse at a nearby hospital. Elizabeth and David are both in college.

The husband of SALLY GRAHAM Murphy has been re-elected to the city Board of Aldermen in Frederick, Md. Caroline is a graduate of Moore College of Art; Beth is at Wake Forest University; Lewis is at VPI.

From Roanoke, Va., JANE REID Cunningham writes that son Tom is at Guilford College; daughter Nancy is at Sweetbriar College; daughters Betsy and Robin are at home.

ELIZABETH WILLIAMS Hoover has recently been named director of Blue Ridge Legal Services which covers Staunton and Winchester. Eliza lives in Mt. Crawford, Va., really likes her legal profession and highly recommends it.

BARBARA BISHOP Witherspoon of Victoria, Texas, has a daughter, Jennifer, who is attending Texas A&M.

1960

HARRIET HILL Green is married to Dr. John Layette Green Jr., newly inaugurated president of Washburn University of Topeka, Kansas.

DORIS ROHNER Rogers, Red Bank, N.J., has a son, Les, and a daughter, Kelley (MBC '82). Doris is an elder in her church, is active in the PTA and the Children's Psychiatric Center. Her husband is with Mobil Oil of New York.

JEANNETTE HERVEY Trice is a manager with the Park and Planning Commission in Wheaton, Md. Her daughter is a student at Loyola, and her husband is with the Treasury Department.

PATSY BALLOU Trevillian lives in Charlottesville, Va., and has two children, Will and Patsy.

SUE WARFIELD Caples has recently moved to Weston, Conn., where she stays busy with YMCA and American Cancer Society activities. Sue is director of volunteers at the Matheny School for Cerebral Palsied Children, a special hospital/school for physically handicapped children.

children. Her husband is with the Exxon Office Systems Company, and they have three children.

LINDA DAVIS Kirk is manager and secretary of horse shows in Houston, Texas. She and her husband go to horse shows as often as possible, John working as their official photographer! They have three children, Karen, Laura, and Becca.

NANCY MAYER Dunbar and her attorney husband live in Columbia, S.C., with their children, Phillips and Kathryn. Nancy is a Ph.D. candidate at U.S.C. College of Education. In addition, Nancy keeps busy with many, many volunteer activities including the Colonial Dames of South Carolina, Garden Club of Columbia, D.A.R., Columbia Museums of Arts and Sciences, Lyric Opera, Friends of Library of Richland County and other civic and community organizations.

From Verrières Le Buisson, France, we recently heard from FRANCOISE ANDRIEU Motard that she and her husband have bought a very old house in Aussergne (built in 1655) and are planning to restore it. Françoise occasionally returns to the United States, as she has arranged an exchange with Sidwell Friends School in Washington, D.C. Her husband is a project director of telecommunications with the French government, and they have two children, Hélène and François.

SALLY SQUIRES Erickson is a housewife and mother of two, Emily and David. Sally is still playing tennis and is involved with the Junior League and her church activities. Sally's husband is vice president of the James River Paper Company, and they live in Richmond, Va.

CATHY HONCHELL Carpenter lives in Danville, Ill., where she is secretary for the Director of Marketing and Communications at the Lakeview Medical Center. Charles is executive editor of the Commercial News. Their children are Cindy and Chip. Cathy writes that she is not as active as she used to be due to very serious health problems. At the time she wrote she said she needed to have coronary bypass surgery and had had a bout with cancer about which they are very hopeful. Our best wishes to Cathy and her family.

BETTY ENGLE Stoddard is a homemaker and piano teacher of private pupils at her home. In addition, she is very active in her church and her children's school activities. Carl is in agricultural sales with W.R. Grace and Company. Betty is "always busy and often in my activities I find MBC contacts — it's amazing! With so many family members as MBC graduates, this just increases contacts for all of us."

Recently heard from MARY ELLEN BROWN who was on sabbatical, finishing her second book, and preparing for a trip to China and Japan. Her children are Perrin and Torrence. Mary Ellen is associate professor at Indiana University in Bloomington, Ind.

SHARON HOOKS Siewert lives in Abilene, Texas, where she is active with the Junior League, the Fine Arts Museum, Art Guild, Historical Research Committee chairman, and Little League Board. Sharon's husband is a self-employed roofing contractor, and their children are Susan, Julia, Jill, and Tom. With three daughters, Sharon does a lot of sewing, is interested in photography, goes on hunting trips, and follows their son's athletic schedule in football, basketball, track, and baseball.

FRANKIE WILLARD Daniel, Lexington, Ky., is a 6th grade teacher in the Fayette County Public Schools, and her husband is associate professor of history at the University of Kentucky. They recently took their third research trip and second sabbatical to Rome, Italy. Their children are Ellen and Stuart.

SALLY CULLUM Holmes stays busy in Dallas, Texas, with the Junior League, Women's Auxiliary to the Children's Medical Center, and PTA boards. Her husband is vice president of Cullum Companies, Inc., and they have three children, Houston, Rob, and Blake.

VICKY HILL Rimstidt and her family live on a 97-acre farm in Pine Bush, N.Y. Just 1½ hours from New York City. They are all animal lovers and when not occupied with "all our creatures," they like to take advantage of the wonders of NYC. Vicky's husband is with International Paper, and they have three children, Joseph III, Dirk, and Melissa. Vicky is a 4-H leader, accompanist for the junior choir at church, and is a member of the Embroidery Guild of America.

JEAN BROWN Kivilighan stays busy in Stanleytown, Va., where she is involved in forming a band booster's club at the local high school and is working on raising money to buy new uniforms. Her hobbies include tennis, needlework, and reading. Jean's husband is with the Stanley Furniture Company, and they have three children, John, Angela, and Sam.

From Northbrook, Ill., MARGARET PAULSEL Werd writes that she has traveled in 11 different states with her job as educator with the New York Times Information Services. She writes training curricula and manuals for different data bases offered from the headquarters in New Jersey. Her husband is with U.S. Steel, and their children are Daphne, Gregory, and Matthew.

From Dallas, Texas, LYNDY HENDERSON Vincent writes that her renewed interest is in showing and riding her new jumping horse. Lynda's daughter attends Hockaday School.

1961

KATHERINE SMITH Tinker has two children, and her husband, Bill, is with VEPCO. Bill and Katherine have their own studio in which they are involved with the hand-cutting and painting of wooden-folk sculptures. They live in the same renovated farm house in Ashland, Va., where they have been for ten years.

MAY WELLS JONES, New Orleans, La., is still teaching at the University of New Orleans.

From Florissant, Mo., PATRICIA LIEBERT Riddick writes of her expected move to Heidelberg, Germany. Larry just recently passed 20 years of service in the U.S. Army. Their children, Gail, Lynn, and Gray will go with them.

CECILIA FLOW Eller lives in Boston, Mass., and is costume manager at the American Repertory Theater. Cecilia has a daughter.

CAROL WORNON Sorenson is now living in Fairfax, Va., since her husband has been assigned new duty with the U.S. Navy in Washington, D.C.

MARY NELL WILLIAMS Mathis lives in Lubbock, Texas, and is a charter member of Common Cause and was recently nominated for the National Board of this organization. She is a CPA, tax manager and partner, and is mother of two.

1962

SALLY HELTZEL Pearsall is music teacher at Westminster Presbyterian Church in Mobile, Ala., and is active with the PTA, Mobile Theatre Guild, and the Mobile Opera Guild. David is consulting engineer with J.B. Converse and Company, and they have two children, Sally and Susan. Sally acts and sings with the community theatre and with the Opera Guild, is a deacon in church, sings in the choir, and plays handbells.

In Bedford, N.Y., EUGENIA "Woo" McCUEN Thompson has recently started her own business called "That Special Touch," in partnership with a friend doing custom silk floral arrangements and plants. Woo has enjoyed traveling with her husband in the Far East and redecorating her home. Her husband is director of communications and data processing with IBM-Americans/Far East Corp., and their children are William and David. In addition to her new business, Woo is involved with the Junior League, her church, Bedford Garden Club, and the Art Show of Bedford.

KENT SEABURY Rowles lives in Hampton, Va., where she is a Title I math specialist with the Hampton city schools; her husband is vice president of United Virginia Bank. Their children are Sarah and Joseph. Joseph has served as a page to the chairman of the House Appropriations Committee of the Virginia General Assembly.

From Charlton Heights, W. Va., JO WHITTLE Thornton writes that she is administrative assistant to the director of continuing education at West Virginia Tech, and her husband is assistant dean of engineering there, also. Jo has been doing a lot of traveling with her husband who is a director of the American Society of Civil Engineers. They have three children, Suzanne, Will, and Rives.

BETTY SCOTT Featherstone and her attorney husband live in Richmond, Va., with their children, Mary Beth, Margaret, James, Carrie, and Andy. Betsy keeps busy organizing her family's activities and as a member of her church choir.

After many years out of teaching, RUTH DREWRY Wills has returned to Seven Hills School, where she taught before her children were born. Ruth is active in the YWCA, the Lynchburg (Va.) Historical Foundation, is a Brownie leader, and a Sunday school teacher. Walter is vice president of Central Fidelity Bank, and they have two children, Drewry and Waller, IV.

In Hampton, Va., LACEY SANFORD Hudgins has recently served as state president of Daughters of Colonial Wars, is active in the Junior League of Hampton Roads, Peninsula Family Service Travelers Aid, American Red Cross, and the Altar Guild of St. John's Church. Lacey's husband is project engineer with Tidewater Construction Company. They have one child, William III.

DALE WHITE Robey, her attorney husband, and two children (Kate and Donna) live in Buena Vista, Va.

LINDA POLLARD Johnston lives in Griffin, Ga., and is the owner of a small advertising business. During the summer of 1979 she and her husband renovated an old building and made it into a Williamsburg-style ladies shop. Linda finds it to be a fun and rewarding project. Their two daughters, Susan and Julie, keep things hopping, but Linda still finds time to play bridge.

In San Francisco, Calif., ANNE STRANGE Daftary is very much interested in thoroughbred horse racing, as she is paddock-placing judge for Bay Meadows Racing Association.

In St. Louis, Mo., SUSAN HARRIS stays busy building her public relations and marketing business and doing some free-lance writing. Susan has a daughter, Elizabeth.

HARRIET HOPE Howard sells real estate with Tucson Realty and Trust, and her husband is chief civil deputy with the Pima County attorney's office. They live in Tucson, Ariz., with their two children, Ted and Hope.

From Binghamton, N.Y., VERA THOMAS James writes that she is predominately a homemaker, but does do some substitute teaching. Besides homemaking and taxiing the children (Jennifer, Aimee, and Joell) to and fro, Vera enjoys tote painting, craft activities, furniture refinishing and upholstering. She is also active in the PTA, her church, Broome County Preschool Vision Screening, the Girl Scouts, and AAU swimming. Vera's husband is program manager for B52 follow-on simulators with Singer-Link.

PENN WALKER Flournoy lives in Kinston, N.C., where her husband is a radiologist at the local hospital. Penn, John, and their children, Scott and Elisabeth, spend a lot of time on the Carolina Coast, only 70 miles away from their home. Penn is in several bridge clubs, is active in garden club activities, arts council, the medical auxiliary, and plays on a tennis team.

In Danville, Pa., SUSAN JENNINGS Denson is very active in her church and with the English Riding Club of Northeast Pennsylvania. "To run this farm and rebuild this place is a full-time job. I have become stone mason, plasterer, painter, breeder, trainer." Susan's husband is a project construction manager, and they have a daughter, Jenny.

BETTY CACCIAPIAGLIA Pesagno is a self-employed free-lance editor in Westport, Conn., and her husband is a teacher and public lecturer. Their children are Eric and Claudia.

PEGGY SAUNDERS Hayes lives in Hampton, Va., and is a housewife and mother of Richard and William. Peggy's husband is an insurance agent with State Farm.

From Atlanta, Ga., SUSAN PEGRAM O'Gara writes that she is on the board of directors of the Atlanta Speech School, past chairman of the Garden Club of America, and has also served on the Advisory Board at MBC for three years. Kevin is president of KOGCO, Inc., an office products firm. Their children are Kevin, Bobby, Nancy, and Timothy. Susan's garden club takes her to New York almost monthly for board meetings, and recently she took a group to visit gardens in France and Italy.

BETTY KELLEY Peple is in sales with Miller and Rhoads in Richmond, Va. Her husband is with Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Virginia, and they have two children, Troy and Kit.

In Fernandina Beach, Fla., FRANCES WENTZ Taber and her husband are licensed real estate brokers. She says their lives are really full, revolving around their two children, Elizabeth and Francis, and their business, The Taber Real Estate Store, Inc.

JANE GILMER Weyant of Atlanta, Ga., recently received her Ph.D. in history from Georgia State University.

PAM MCINNIS Luce, her attorney husband, and three children, Ken, Ellen, and Susan live in Dallas, Texas. Pam is involved with the activities of her church, the high school PTA, Dallas Heritage Society, and a Bible class.

The alumnae office recently received news of MARTHA BUTLER Mathews of Charlotte, N.C. The article told us that Martha does with fibers what other artists do with oils and watercolors, including portraits, landscapes, and cardigans that are works of art in themselves. Her work, which she calls "tapestries" because of their size, has won awards in juried competition throughout the country. One of her tapestries, a bright catamaran under full sail, was used as a cover for a national sportsman's magazine. Martha is also very interested in painting and pottery and formerly made some of her own vegetable dyes. Her husband wholeheartedly supports her work, crating and hanging most of her pieces.

MIMI McKNINNIS Sherrill lives in Pensacola, Fla., and writes that her oldest son, Charles is attending W&L.

JAMIE HENRY Carter, a North Carolina resident, recently received the Minor S. Jamieson Award for the best landscape for first place in the 47th annual exhibition of Miniature Painters, Sculptors and Engravers Society of Washington, D.C. The exhibition included approximately 350 artworks by 160 artists; 26 states were represented, as well as England and France.

SHIRLEY FILE Robbins lives in Richmond, Va., and is part-time coordinator of staff development at Beth Shalom Home of Central Virginia. Shirley and family recently went to California and Arizona on vacation and were planning to take a multi-trip down the Grand Canyon! Her husband is executive president of Beth Shalom Corporation, and they have four children, Mary, Julie, Felice, and Alan.

LINDA DOLLY Hammack is especially busy with the American Red Cross now; she is producer of radio/film/TV productions with this organization, and her husband is an attorney. They live in Fairfax, Va.

DALE PORTER Miller is a homemaker in Houston, Texas, and her husband is president of Glenda Exploration and Development Company. They have two children, Ernie and Meg, who keep Dale busily involved with school activities, as well as Junior League, her church, and serving as a Brownie leader.

IVIA ZEILER Lucas writes from Fleetwood, Pa., that she has just recently returned from five months in Europe — living near Cambridge, England, and traveling through Western Europe.

LUCY DANNER Martin lives in Ft. Payne, Ala., and has two daughters, Katherine and Julianne.

1963

FRANCES ("Bitty") DAVIS TenBrook lives in Wilmot, Mass., and is doing volunteer work in a secret shelter for battered women. Her husband works for Hershey Foods.

From Ankara, Turkey, KEENE ROADMAN Martin writes that they are enjoying their tour there. Her husband is commander of the USAF hospital in Ankara. They have traveled to Russia, Egypt, and Israel.

Lynn Butts Preston writes from Boulder, Colo., that she recently had a visit from her two MBC roommates, Becky Cannaday Merchant and Shearer Troxell Luck.

Lane Wright Cochrane has recently started work for Lockheed in Sunnyvale, Calif., as a programmer.

Irene Mathias Kaufman, Waynesboro, Va., was recently elected chairman of the advisory board of the Salvation Army for Waynesboro-East Augusta County. (She is the first woman to be elected chairman of the local board.) Irene is an elementary school principal, secretary of the Lincoln Club, member of the Augusta County Republican Women's Club, and has served as vice president of the W.P.S.E Credit Union.

Jean Wells Nelson lives in Des Moines, Iowa, and is the mother of four.

Terry Geggie Fridley of Covington, Va., sends news of her children. Mitchell is busy playing football and basketball, and Cary is a gymnast and flutist.

Sally Dupree Barnett lives in Huntsville, Ala., and stays busy as a docent at the Museum of Art, as a committee chairman of a Boy Scout troop and a Cadette Girl Scout leader in one of the housing projects. They enjoy attending antique auto shows in their '34 Chevy!

Page Putnam Miller of Silver Spring, Md., has been appointed project director of the National Coordinating Committee for the Promotion of History. Her office is in the American Historical Association building in Washington, D.C., and Page works in the field of career development for historians. She has held a variety of academic and administrative positions, including associate professor of American history at the University of Maryland and Prince George's Community College. Page has served as a board member of various religious organizations, and has acted as vice-moderator and chairperson of several national and regional committees. Page is married and has one child.

Emily Dethloff Ryan, Houston, Texas, is mother of Kemper and Ragan. Her husband has an energy consulting company.

From Virginia Beach, Va., Elizabeth Laird Hicks writes that she is busy as a Red Cross volunteer, mother of three children. Her husband is a captain in the U.S. Navy Dental corps and a regional consultant in endodontics.

1964

Mary Kerr Sullivan was recently appointed to the position of editor of catalogs and bulletins in the office of public relations at Trinity University. Mary won a Silver Spur Award from the Texas Public Relations Association for best state/regional public relations campaign in 1979. Her column "Second Thoughts" was published weekly for two years in the North San Antonio Times, and the San Antonio Magazine has published several of her free-lance articles. This news of Mary was received in the alumnae office from the Trinity University Public Relations Office and we are happy to pass along the information to her classmates. Mary lives in San Antonio, Texas.

Byrd Williams Abbott lives in Basking Ridge, N.J., and is the mother of two sons. She writes that they attend a lot of soccer games.

Jane "Honey" Lemon Eifler of Houston, Texas, teaches part-time, art to preschoolers and performing arts program to junior high students.

Sally Dorsey Danner has opened her own interior design business in Atlanta, Ga.

From Cherry Point, N.C., Carolyn Clemmer McCulley is enjoying her paralegal job but wishes there were more hours in the day! Her children, Catherine and Michael, are involved in sports, scouts, etc. Carolyn and husband Mike are very involved with their local Episcopal church, yacht club, etc. Their main family recreation is sailing, a little racing and a lot of cruising.

Katherine Early Roper and family moved to Alexandria, Va., where she is teaching. Her husband, Leighton, is a trust officer with United Virginia Bank, and they have two sons, Parks and David.

From Alpharetta, Ga., Judith Floeter Ford writes that they are living out in the country and love it! She still sees Lyn Warner Shiver often. Judith has two sons, Stewart and John.

1965

Louise Erdman has been promoted from account executive to account supervisor with Waring and LaRosa, an advertising agency in New York City. Louise lives in Norwalk, Conn., and was looking forward to a ski trip in Aspen when we last heard from her.

From Dallas, Texas, Randi Nyman Halsell writes that she is designing and making assorted belts which she sells to four Pappagallo stores. Ed is with Merrill Lynch, and they have two children, Susan and Karen.

Elizabeth Walker Cate is a housewife in Columbia, S.C., and mother of Walker, Nilla, and Elizabeth.

Minerva Thompson Nolte, husband Jim, and son Geoffrey are now settled on their farm in Beaverton, Ore., after five years in the Navy.

In Morgantown, W. Va., Ann Mebane Levine is enjoying a new job as assistant to the project director of a new program at West Virginia University — administering a consortium of faculty that teach international studies at 17 different West Virginia colleges and universities. Ann says that she is putting her MBC history training and background to good use.

Meredith Carter Patterson, Burlington, N.C., is still painting portraits and writes that she is learning more with each stroke!

Catherine Griffin Barr lives in Atlanta, Ga., and keeps busy as a board member of LWV, is an elder in her church, and has served as president of Women of the Church. In addition, she has a Brownie troop. Al is an attorney and real estate manager, and they have two girls, Maret and Lane:

Mary Gillespie Amos, Atlanta, Ga., is a student at Columbia Theological Seminary and is working toward a Master of Divinity Degree and ordination.

Susan Browne Webb is director of pre-school at the First Methodist Church in Clearwater, Fla. She teaches two-year-olds. Susan is involved in the activities of her children, Betsy and Wil Fred, her husband, is minister of Faith Presbyterian Church in Dunedin.

From Arlington, Va., Anne Jackson McAllister writes that she keeps busy with the activities of her children, Conrad and Andrew. Her husband is an attorney.

1966

In West Palm Beach, Fla., Carol Storm Smith is enjoying the sailboat they recently purchased.

Lynn Angevine Hawkins of Essex, Conn., has recently served as vice-chairman of the Republican Town Committee, is a justice of the peace, and room mother for her daughter.

Anne Hutton Shreve lives in Wolf, Wyo., where she is running a nursery school and keeping up with four very active children of her own. They also have a 4-H group now. As her parents will be moving to Virginia soon, Anne hopes to be able to return to the MBC campus to visit.

In Brooklyn, N.Y., Ginger Timbes Ewing is enjoying raising her two little boys, Meredith, III, and Spencer. Ginger is also involved in restoring their 100-year-old Victorian brownstone and working as an A.S.P.O. certified childbirth instructor.

Word has been received in the alumnae office that Jane McMurdoo Bagwell has been promoted to communications coordinator for Mead Packaging, a division of the Mead Corporation in Atlanta, Ga. Jane joined the firm in 1960.

Anne Wade Godwin writes that she is still "puttering with this old house in East Granby, Conn.". They have four children, Rich, Elizabeth, Amanda, and Thomas. Ann breeds and raises English Springer spaniels and says that the children enjoy training the dogs almost as much as she does.

Sims Brockenbrough Foulks is settled in Durham, N.C., where she continues to be active in the Junior League, choir, and Cub Scouts. Gary is very busy with research, teaching and corneal surgery. They have three children, Guy, Beverly, and Heather.

In Raleigh, N.C., Cally Rogers-Witte is serving on the executive council of the United Church of Christ and was recently elected to the governing board of the National Council of Churches. Husband Frank is a clinical psychologist, and their daughters are Mary Ann and Elizabeth.

1967

Sallie Chellis Schisler, Portsmouth, Ohio, keeps busy with Toby and Jamie and their soccer, Cub Scouts, and choir. Dick continues in an elective office and a private practice as well.

Sara Thompson Helfrich has moved to the country (Sikeston, Mo.) where she is spending much time restoring the old home place. Sara stays busy with her three children and surgeon-farmer husband.

In Winchester, Va., Cheryl Diane Dimmick Andre has gone back to school to work on earning her teaching certification in library science. Her two sons, Chris and Justin, are growing rapidly and are very active in soccer.

J.B. and Winton Mather Doherty continue to live in Radnor, Pa., in the Philadelphia area, home of the Phillies and Eagles! They stay busy with their home, daughter Brooke, friends, jobs, and volunteer activities.

In 1980 Linda Young Kennedy and her husband built a new home, and she went back to teaching Spanish. Brownies, church activities, and raising Diana and Patrick are important parts of Linda's life now.

Nancy Falkenburg is working as a computer programmer in Atlanta, Ga., and is attending Georgia State.

Barbara Shuler Mayo and her husband are associate scientists at the Provincetown Center for Coastal Studies. Barbara is involved in environmental activities, but spends as much time as possible with their son, Josiah.

Anne Williams Blanks of Woodbridge, Va., is substitute teaching and providing taxi service for her two sons. Randolph is still working at the Pentagon, and they are enjoying Washington and being in Virginia again.

Peggy Anderson Carr writes from Dallas, Texas, that she is chairman of the Dallas Junior League training committee and enjoying daughter, Catherine.

Betsy Allee Ginsburg is living in Houston, Texas, with husband, Gus, and two daughters, Becky and Lissa. Betsy teaches a pre-school class and an art class.

Joan Veltin Hall is a part-time Spanish teacher at Lake Hill Preparatory School. Joan and her husband see Lela Gibbs Williams '66 and her family and Dianne Kearney Scott '66 and family occasionally. Joan is putting together reference material to aid MBC alumnae who are job searching in Dallas. Their son is named Reeves.

Word has been received in the alumnae office that Pamela Melson Martin of Plainfield, N.J., was recently elected to serve as president of the Junior League of Elizabeth-Plainfield, Inc. Pamela is an active member of the Plainfield Republican City Committee and is a trustee of the Plainfield Free Library. She also serves on the board of the United Way.

Marian McDowell Whitlock lives in Lansdale, Pa., and is working on a doctoral program at Temple. Her degree will be in elementary education.

1968

Ann Livingston Wainscott is living in Frankfort, Ky., and teaching part time in a private elementary school. Ann's husband is an independent insurance agent, and they have two children, Bill and Rob.

Ellen Gaw Dean and her husband have recently redecorated a hundred-year-old house for his law office in Laurinburg, N.C., and were pleased to see it turn into a real showplace.

TEMPE GRANT Thomas of Bethesda, Md., has quit flying after being with American Airlines as a flight attendant for 12 years. Now she is full-time mother to Tempe and is thoroughly enjoying it. Jack's company is booming, and he's very happy in his time-sharing computer business.

CATHERINE IKENBERRY Fawell writes from Chevy Chase, Md., that her two sons are now in school and she is in business with another graphic designer producing layouts for business publications.

SHARON GRAY DUNCAN of Oklahoma City, Okla., has three children, Sarah, Judson, and Michael, to keep her busy. In addition, she is a Brownie leader and is active in her church. Sharon's husband is a drilling manager with Harper Oil Company.

SUSAN ALEXANDER Yates recently moved to Falls Church, Va., where her husband is rector of the Episcopal church there. They have five children, including twins!

MARCY JERNIGAN Sims and Hunter have two children, Hunter, III, and Clara. Marcy is the director of the Department of Public Libraries for the city of Virginia Beach, Va.

HALLIE COLHOUN Garland of Charlottesville, Va., writes that her husband, Bob, is a pharmacist and assistant manager of Peoples. They have four sons who keep them quite busy!

JANE CRANE McSwain and her husband have been transferred from Omaha, Neb., to Osan AB, Korea for two years. Between her teaching and Tom's chief of services job, they hope to squeeze in some traveling. They love Korea — so much to see and do!

SUSAN MERKLAS Kahn lives in Miami, Fla., with Larry and their three children, Lani, Lowell, and Lauren. Susan has received her master's from the University of Miami and writes occasional articles for air and magazines, newspapers. Larry is a builder/developer in the Miami/Ft. Lauderdale area.

JANE STARKE Sims lives in Adelphi, Md., and is mother of Robin Elizabeth and Lauren Page, who is about to enter kindergarten.

In Memphis, Tenn., BARBARA JOHNSTON Garner has been working for Federal Express as an organization planning analyst for the last three years. Barbara is enjoying her job after being "Mama" for so many years!

SARAH STERRETT Worthen writes from Scarsdale, N.Y., that her husband, Wake, has recently opened his own investment banking firm. Sarah is active in her church, PTA and Junior League work. They have two children, Elizabeth and Christina.

CATHY TURNER Temple lives in Atlanta, Ga., and has recently retired from teaching at the Atlanta Speech School.

From Richmond, Va., LYNN BOYD Hewitt writes that she and Roger are now working for a private rehabilitation company and running as much as possible. Lynn ran her first marathon in October.

NANCY KEVAN Lazaron lives in Norfolk, Va., and has a three-year-old daughter. Her husband is an architect and has recently won the apartment design division of the Virginia State Residential Passive Solar Competition. Nancy is a copywriter-designer-producer and is also doing public relations work.

ANN WHITTEN Gillenwater and husband John have two children, Elizabeth Kenan and James Jason. Ann is now retired from the Bank of Virginia. They live in Bristol, Tenn.

BARBARA BROWN Bowles and Richard are busy keeping up with their three daughters, Beth, Robin, and Anne in Oakton, Va.

Notice has been received in the alumnae office concerning EDITH STOTLER, who has recently been elected assistant vice president of Harris Bank of Chicago, Ill. Edith is a member of the Public Utility Securities Club of Chicago and of the Alumni Council, University of Illinois.

SUSAN ALEXANDER Yates, her husband, and five children live in Falls Church, Va., where John is rector of the Falls Episcopal Church.

1969

JANET TURNER Barrows writes from Santa Rosa, Calif., that she and her family (husband and daughter Paige) are actively involved in the Creative Initiative, a national educational foundation that seeks solutions to global problems through personal responsibility, education, and action toward the positive.

From Reston, Va., MARY ELLENA WARD writes that she and her husband, James Slack, recently celebrated their 5th anniversary. Mary Elena has also started a new assignment within Honeywell.

A card from JANIE CARTER Vaughan of Lynchburg, Va., tells us that SANDY HOLLIMAN Morrison won a gold medal in the Raleigh, N.C., marathon, held on Mother's Day.

ANN SIMS Rutherford and family have moved back to Roanoke. Bob is in cardiology practice, and they have three daughters, Julie, Molly, and Sarah.

MARGARET NOEL Wert and husband have built a house on 13 acres of land near Warrenton, Va. Their two sons are enjoying all the room to roam.

BETSY NEWMAN Mason lives in Norfolk, Va., and is selling real estate.

ANN WIRTH Williams writes from Plano, Texas, that her husband, John, is still with Atlantic Richfield. They have a daughter Sarah, who is in the fourth grade.

MARTHA FOWLER Pitzer and her husband, Jack, are both working as teachers of the visually impaired in Roanoke, Va. Jack also coaches several sports. Martha is constantly on the go with volunteer activities with the Brambleton Junior Woman's Club and her church.

From Washington, D.C., JANE COLLIS Thornton tells us that she has a new daughter, Elizabeth, who joins her brother, Bryan, in bringing joy to their home. Husband Whitney has recently opened his own law firm.

SUZANNE HARTLEY Barker lives in Coville, Wash., where she stays busy taking care of two sons, Jason and Jeffrey, and with the Parent Cooperative Program. Pat is a physician specializing in internal medicine.

INGRID STALHEIM Andrews, Laguna Niguel, Calif., writes that she is thrilled to have MERYL DOW Brand close by in Fountain Valley, Calif., with her husband and three children. Ingrid is happy and busy with her two sons.

KAREN MARSTON Vaughn has lived for seven years in the country (Powhatan Point, Ohio) and loves it! Besides being a homemaker, Karen is interested in women's issues and participates in a group that deals with the problem of domestic violence.

ROSA LYNN DRIVER Stuart and her husband are both practicing law in Columbia, S.C. They have two daughters, Sarah and Lollie.

JULIE BALDWIN Montgomery lives in Santa Rosa, Calif., and is director of the YWCA Women's Emergency Shelter Program for battered women and their children. Her husband is in the Environmental Studies Program at Sonoma State University concentrating on energy studies.

From New York, N.Y., JENNIFER MACK Urquhart writes that she has set up her own marketing consulting company and, in addition, she is vice president of marketing services for Resorts International, Ltd. (Bahamas). Jennifer is also working on a play and doing TV commercials.

ANN LEWIS Vaughn has recently become involved in community work with the local arts council and has accepted an appointment to the board of directors of NCBN in Mt. Airy, N.C. Husband Tom is a busy ob/gyn there, and their two children, Kathryn Scott and Jay, keep Ann very busy.

JENNIFER KING Fitzhugh writes that life in Eugene, Ore., is very good, especially sharing it with their three children. Jennifer is attending graduate school in journalism. Their computer business is growing rapidly.

DINAH THOMPSON Seares writes from Cumberland, Md., that she has three children, Andrew, Leigh, and Alison.

JACQUELYN RIEPE Hill lives in Richmond, Va., and is a full-time graduate student in the School of Social Work at Virginia Commonwealth University, working toward becoming a clinical social worker.

ANNE McGEOGE Nickerson, Big Horn, Wyo., has retired as regional director of the Experiment in International Living exchange program to become full-time mother to David. Her husband, Scott, is an orthopedic surgeon.

Gill and MARTHA DIMMOCK Campbell live in Mobile, Ala., and have three children, Letitia, Brian, and Robert. Martha continues to be involved with the La Leche League, helping states in the Eastern United States plan their yearly state conferences.

1970

PATRICIA LYON lives in Atlanta, Ga., and loves it! She has been promoted to national product manager for Honeywell, and is included in Who's Who of American Women 1981-1982. Pat's volunteer work includes New Horizons (women prisoners half-way house in Atlanta) and the Singles Program at her church. She has started another business on the side — co-owner of The Hitching Post, wedding consultants.

CAROL CARMAN lives in Cockeysville, Md., and was recently promoted to assistant vice president of marketing at the Mercantile Bank and Trust Company. Carol is also working towards her M.B.A.

SUSAN LANIER Brown of Tucson, Ariz., is still keeping busy with interior design clients, buying trips to Los Angeles for Assistance League, and with Carter.

From West Sumner, Maine, ELIZABETH CORTRIGHT Quarier writes that she is working in the field of migrant education. Her husband is a counselor at St. Mary's Hospital in the Alcohol and Drug Abuse Treatment Center.

GRACE HITCHMAN McGrath lives in El Cajon, Calif., where her husband, Bill, has his own law firm. Grace writes that she is "up to her ears in volunteer work," with Juniors of Social Service, Project Concern, and the Children's Hospital Auxiliary.

Until recently MATTICE BRANDT Ranney worked part-time in the office of her husband's restaurants, Fritzbe's, in Northern Virginia and Maryland. Is at home now enjoying the children and studying the piano, etc.

Word has been received in the alumnae office that GINGER HOLMES has been made assistant vice president of the First National Bank in Dallas, Texas. She is an account relations officer in the Commercial Finance Department.

From Annapolis, Md., JANE IRZYK Mize writes that they will soon be leaving the Naval Academy for Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., so Dave can go to school. Jane is currently president of the Marine Officers' Wives' Club which keeps her busy. It has been a wonderful year for them and their two children, Stacey and Jeff.

MARCH LACKY Price lives in Fairfax, Va., and is in an interesting area of personnel work — labor negotiations. Gary is doing well and they will soon have a new house.

1971

MELISSA WIMBISH Ferrell and John enjoy living in the Fan District of Richmond, Va. He is a lawyer, and Melissa continues her work as a paralegal. They spent five weeks in Europe in 1979, spending one week with EDITH SCHNEIDER Roques in her home just outside of Toulouse, France.

KAY JACOBS Wendell is president of the Fayetteville (W.Va.) Junior Woman's Club and part-time teacher. Her husband is a self-employed certified public accountant, and they have one son, Richard Preston. They continue remodeling their home but do have time for some traveling.

KIT O'BANNON lives in Louisville, Ky., where she is a Spanish teacher and college advisor at St. Francis High School, and assists with city tennis tournaments.

LOUISE (Muffy) BOYLAN Dunn lives in Wilson, N.C., where she is active in the Playhouse (Wilson's community theater), the Arts Council, and her church.

Muffy is account executive/copywriter with an advertising and public relations company.

JANIE FAULDS, Rosemont, Pa., is a member of the Board of Deacons of her church, is a Sunday school teacher, a member of the Pastor Nominating Committee, and PEO. Janie is an actuarial supervisor with Higgins and Company.

From Birmingham, Ala., SUSAN (Su) NORTON Minor writes that she enjoys playing racquetball and tending the rose garden which was acquired with their home. Su is public relations assistant with Brookwood Health Services, and her husband is secretary, general counsel with Coal Systems, Inc. Su lists as her volunteer activities Ballet Guild, Junior League, and museum docent.

JENNY McHUGH HASSE lives in Raleigh, N.C., and is senior research technician in the department of medicine at the Duke University Medical Center. Her husband is assistant professor of physics at North Carolina State University.

JANICE BOOTH Maner is a homemaker in Eden, N.C. Since graduation, they have lived in five different cities, and other than the hassle of moving, have loved each new place and have made many lasting friendships. Janice's husband is manager with Duke Power Company. They have two daughters, Dabney and Whitley.

MARIE MOOREFIELD Penn is mother of two (Drewry, Jr. and Harrison) and homemaker in Martinsville, Va. Her husband is plant manager for Bassett Furniture Industries. Marie is a member of the Garden Study Club Auxiliary, a Sunday school teacher, and is involved with the Charity League of Martinsville.

Anne COLLINS lives in Takoma Park, Md., and is manager of the design department of SCAN Furniture Company in D.C. Anne enjoys photography, cross-country and downhill skiing, camping, running, and racquetball, and still finds time to do some free-lance work.

In Midlothian, Va., LLOYD CATHER Dickson enjoys singing with the choir at church, is interested in the Junior Great Books Program, the PTA, and is a library aide. Her husband is community development representative, Division of Industrial Development, Commonwealth of Virginia. They have two children, Tyler and Amanda.

BRENDA NICHOL Goings lives in Charlottesville, Va., with her two children, Mary and Anna. Brenda is a member of the MBC Alumnae Board and the University League of Charlottesville.

KAREN CARLSON writes from Boston, Mass., that after receiving her Library Science degree from Simmons, she spent four years in Italy and loved every minute of it. When she returned to the U.S., she started working at Harvard University and is now responsible for cataloging for 25 libraries within the university — "it's a challenge just remembering all the names!" She's also president of the Harvard University Library Club — planning events that are library-related and social in an effort to bring librarians into contact with each other.

In Raleigh, N.C., SUSAN POPE Finch is busy with many organizations, including the Community Watch Program, Museum of History Associates, North Carolina Symphony Women's Association, LaLeche League Friendship Force. They recently hosted a German family of four, and Susan was able to use her German as the family spoke very little English. Her husband is president/owner of Finelco Electrical Construction, and they have three children, Robert, Mary, and Caroline.

MARY McCUALEY Greathouse lives in Versailles, Ky., and is the mother of Meg and Katherine Lynn. Her husband raises cattle and produces thoroughbred horse feed.

From Washington, D.C., NANCY R. JONES writes that her time is fairly well consumed by her full-time employment as coordinator of the cooperative education program at American University. Her husband is senior trial attorney with the Department of Justice.

LYNDY SEAMAN Whipp lives in Fairfax, Va., and is attending George Mason University Law School. Her husband is vice president of James Rouse and Company, and they have two children, Jamie and Elizabeth.

KATHERINE BLACKWELL Roach lives in Richmond, Va., and is a compensation analyst with the County of Henrico. Her husband is a psychologist, and they have a daughter, Adele.

In Huntsville, Ala., CLAUDIA WITHERS Fahrner works as a cost analyst and has two children, Matthew and Catherine. Her husband is a management analyst. They like to ski whenever they can and try to get to Canada a few weeks each summer.

NANCY McDOWELL Lincoln writes from Charlotte, N.C., that she has recently graduated from Princeton Theological Seminary where she received her M. Div. degree for ordination into the ministry (PCUS). Her husband is also a Princeton graduate and is associate pastor of Trinity Presbyterian Church. Nancy is teaching and doing pastoral care and counseling in several churches in the Presbytery. Her emphasis is in marriage and family counseling.

JULIE MARSHALL Davis writes from Raleigh, N.C., that Betsy is now a lively two year old. Julie is still teaching, and husband Walter is busy with his architectural business.

SUSAN PRICE Garth lives in Mobile, Ala., with husband Thomas and three children, Sudie, Elizabeth, and Katie.

EMILY PAINE Brady and family have recently moved back to Salem, Va., from the Boston, Mass., area. Emily is in the Junior League, is a Sunday school teacher, draft counselor (past) and aide to Peacework (AFSC) newsletter, and has been active in the political and environmental issues. Emily is "mommy" to Caroline and Erik. Her husband is comptroller (CPA) for Stuart McGuire Company.

PATRICIA (Dee) BOWMAN Haggard and family recently moved to Traverse City, Mich., where they are loving the snow and winter sports. Dee's husband is vice president for exploration for West Bay Exploration Company. They have two children, Travis and Benjamin.

SUSAN HOCH Crane lives in Alexandria, Va., and is a vice president at Riggs National Bank in Washington, D.C., and is manager of their newest branch located in the Spring Valley area of D.C. Susan is very active in the National Association of Bank Women, attending as many of their seminars and conventions as possible. Husband Warren is survey director for Science Management and has taken up golf seriously.

ANNE HALL, who lives in Dallas, Texas, is active in the Dallas Ski Club, 500 Inc. (Dallas arts), taping for the blind, and Alliance Francaise. Anne is account executive for DB&H Unlimited, Inc.

CONNIE SAMMONOFF Martenstein is enjoying life at home in Richmond, Va., with two little boys, Justin and Charles. During her "quiet times," she likes to cook and do needlework. Connie's husband is assistant counsel for Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Virginia.

LEE WILLEY Bowman, Berkeley, Calif., recently was coordinator for primary grades in her Sunday school program at First Presbyterian Church, and is faculty secretary for the Church Divinity School of the Pacific. Her husband is a Ph.D. candidate (history) at the University of California at Berkeley.

MARY-BACON JOHNSON Williams of Gloucester, Va., is guidance counselor for the York County Schools. Her husband is planning and distribution supervisor with Badische Corporation, and they have a son, James Griffith.

From Harrisonburg, Va., LILA CALDWELL Gardner writes that she is a "domestic engineer" and mother of David and Erin. Her husband is sales manager for G&M Sales of Virginia. Lila is active in the Junior Woman's Club.

ALICE CRADDOCK Massey lives in Norfolk, Va., and works as a program analyst in the programs and resources division at Langley Research Center. Alice is a CPR assistant, is active in the Junior League, and is a church youth advisor. Her husband is an attorney.

HANSFORD (Hansi) CHARLES Pretlow is a housewife in Pocoson, Va., where she and her husband have been building a house on the water — "that takes every waking minute for now!" Hansi's husband is assistant director of pediatric education at Riverside Hospital, and their children are Molly and Robbie.

ISABEL WILLIAMSON Smith lives in Camden, S.C., and is a research assistant for the staff attorney for the South Carolina House of Representatives Judiciary Committee. Her husband, whom she married Nov. 22, 1980, is a restoration architect in Camden.

LESLIE CADELL Bowie is a teacher/administrator with the Montessori School of Gloucester which she opened in 1979. In the summer months, Bill and Leslie sail, their longest venture to Annapolis. They have also taken up running. Bill is with the Civil Service, U.S. Department of Army, at Ft. Eustis. They live in Yorktown, Va.

AMY NELSON Warren lives in Waynesboro, Va., where she worked as Girl Scout leader for five years before the birth of her first child. Amy's husband is civil design engineer with John McNair and Associates.

In Roanoke, Va., ELLEN PORTER Holtman is "Mommy" to Molly and Emily, and her husband is assistant editor, features section, of Roanoke Times and World News. Ellen is a volunteer for the Roanoke Valley Science Museum, is active in her church circle, LaLeche League, Red Cross, and childbirth education.

NANCY JEAN WINTERS Moore is in partnership with her husband in a wholesale foliage business, and also prepares tax returns on the side. Graduate school in management takes a lot of her time, as do the business and their daughter, Kathryn Piper. Nancy Jean and her family live in Apopka, Fla.

SUSIE STUART Blair lives in Moretown, Vt., and is mother of Frazier, Shannon, and Tanner. Susie's husband is president of a contracting firm. They all enjoy Vermont and the New England life.

AGNES COOPER lives in Dallas, Texas, and is active in The 500, Inc. (non-profit, cultural, arts); The Family Place (a shelter for battered women); and Innovators of the Dallas Symphony Orchestra League.

KATHERINE DOWNIE is a social worker with the Alexandria (Va.) Department of Social Services.

PAT MATTHEWS Frealy is in her eighth year of law practice in Fayetteville, Tenn., and still finds it to be challenging and fascinating. She is a member of the American Bar Association, the Tennessee Bar Association, Tennessee Trial Lawyers Association, Fayetteville/Lincoln County Bar Association, Trial Lawyers of America, a member of the American Bar Association Committee on Consumer and Banking and on the Board of Directors of Legal Services Corporation of Middle Tennessee. Her son, Will, is "a trooper and a great campaigner."

BARBARA LEAVITT Franklin lives in Waynesboro, Va., and is mother to Tripp and Courtney. She is organizing a "women's exchange" — a retail outlet for handmade goods, crafts, children's clothing, knitwear, etc. Barbara's husband is an attorney, and she works with the hospital auxiliary, Thrift Shop, and Garden Club.

Brad and KAREN KELLY Hartley are well settled into the "country life" in Villa Rica, Ga. They commute to and from Atlanta to work at Southern Bell, but their hearts are in the "peace and quiet of the country." Jenny fills their lives with laughter and joy.

KATE GLADDEN Schultz and her attorney husband live in Winchester, Va., where she is involved with the preservation of Historic Winchester, the Hospital Auxiliary Follies, and the Apple Blossom Festival. Kate has taken a couple of art-related courses at the community college, but says she has been basically domestic since their two sons, Tommy and Preston, were born. She enjoys cooking and various creative activities and community related projects.

LINDA WINNER Beville, Nokesville, Va., is very active in many church and community activities, including the church choir, Alpha-Bet Pre-school Parent volunteers, Manassas Community Concert Board, the Edmont Music Club (an affiliate of the Virginia Federation of Music Clubs). She also loves tennis. Her husband is an attorney, and they have two children, Lee and Kristin.

In Canton, Ohio, HOLLY MERKEL Daane lists herself as "Domestic Engineer" and mother of Christopher. Holly's volunteer activities include Junior League, board member, YWCA. Next Step, Inc. (a group home for girls). Her husband is an attorney. From Augusta, Ga., JANET SAPP writes that she avails as much as possible and skis every chance she gets! Janet attended Augusta College at night and took chemistry and physics courses. Also took ballet at the Georgia Dance Theatre for several years.

LORRA KEEN Hines lives in Scarborough, Ontario, Canada, and works as a reference assistant in the Information Centre/Library of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce. Her husband is senior assistant manager of the Queen and Spadina Branch of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce.

BETSY CONNER of Richmond, Va., is assistant principal at the Henrico High School. Betsy is a member of the Richmond Junior League of Women, and is on the board of Trustees of the Collegiate Schools.

ELIZABETH TOMS Chaplin lives in Charlotte, N.C., and is "home-bound" with her two little ones, Emily and Ann. She has learned how to do English smocking which she enjoys adding to the children's clothes. Elizabeth is active in the Junior League, is a Sunday school teacher, and is taking a training course to work as Parent Stress Line volunteer. Her husband is an attorney.

In Hockessin, Del., JANE SHORTELL Nelson is a sales clerk in The Kitchen Sink and her husband is treasurer and director of operations at the Artisans Savings Bank.

Jerry and TOT MYERS O'Mara left their jobs in Washington and moved back to Oxford, Md., recently. They are working the farm and love it! They particularly enjoy living near the water and racing a CAL 5 on the Chesapeake Bay. Their boys, Billy and G.K., provide a lot of joy. Tot is a board member of Christ Church Day School and is active in the Avon Yacht Club.

CONSTANCE JONES is "enjoying life immensely" in Brighton, Mass., where she is a body therapist and counselor in holistic health, and was making plans to get her M.A. in Holistic Studies, probably through a Boston school.

From Paris, France, TARINA SMITH Esclapez writes . . ."After an exciting five years as a fashion model here in Paris, I am now fully enjoying being a mother and sharing the early years of my two children, Allison and Christopher. It is interesting, but difficult bringing them up in a bi-cultural atmosphere and Christopher is completely bi-lingual." Her husband, Bernard, is a self-employed commercial photographer.

ELLEN JOHNSON Candler is mother of John, Bill, and David. Ellen's husband is an insurance agent, and they live in Covington, Va., where she is active in the Junior Woman's Club, Garden Club, and PTA.

CATHYE DABNEY Edwards lives in Roanoke, Va., and is the mother of Jack and Dabney. Cathye is busy with the Junior League, Lawyers Wives Club, and the Women's Democratic Club. Her husband is U.S. At-ney for the Western District of Virginia.

LUCY CUNNINGHAM Lee writes from Virginia Beach, Va., that with their hardware store and remodeling a beach home, there is very little free time, but she does find time for volunteer work with the Children's Hospital of King's Daughters and her church.

In Arlington, Va., REBECCA CASE Yelverton is a volunteer with the Service League of Northern Virginia. Her husband is an insurance broker and a president of Peter Yelverton, Inc., and they have three children, Kathryn, Chad, and Peter.

ANN GILMER Richardson lives in Roanoke, Va., and is senior administration specialist with IBM Corporation. Her husband is a project engineer with an engineering consulting firm. They have two children, John and Blair.

STEPHANIE MILLER Goh and her husband are making plans to remodel their restaurant, the Hong Kong Pavilion. Stephanie writes, "Other than helping my husband run the business part-time, I am perfectly content to watch our daughter, Jill, grow!"

After a lot of hard work, MARSHA SPEARS writes that she has recently graduated from W. V. U. Marsha lives in Alexandria, Va., and works for the City as Alexandria Ridesharing Coordinator.

BETH FRANCIS Griffith lives in Atlanta, Ga., where she is a homemaker and mother of Andrew. Beth is a volunteer worker with the Central Health Clinic and is taking aerobic dance. Her husband is an attorney.

From Lexington, Ky., DEBORAH DIXON Salyers writes that she recently obtained her broker's license and is now a broker with Arnold Real Estate. She also does interior decorating for her husband's construction business. They are busy and love it! They have two children, Troy and Jamie.

MARY DORSEY BASS Wanless is married to an M.D., ear, nose, and throat specialist, and is mother of Berry and Dorsey. She writes that she is having a great time in the small town of Montrose, Col., where they ski, climb mountains, but are planning a move to Kansas. Mary Dorsey is a self-employed interior designer for commercial and business interiors.

Raising two daughters, Kate and Kris, keeps BONNIE BRACKETT Weaver busy in West Palm Beach, Fla., along with her volunteer work with the Junior League, Democratic Executive Committee of Palm Beach County, and the tennis league. Bonnie is also working to get a Crisis Nursery established and aid for the Hospice Program to a Center for Independent Living for the handicapped. Her husband is a lawyer.

MURPHY DAVIS, Atlanta, Ga., is director of Southern Prison Ministry and works primarily with prisoners on death row and women prisoners. Her husband is pastor of Clifton Presbyterian Church, which recently opened its doors to provide hospitality, shelter, meals, clothing, etc., for homeless men in Atlanta. Murphy has a Master of Divinity degree from Columbia Theological Seminary. Their daughter is Hannah Loring.

Bill and BROOKE HUME Pendleton are building a new home in Atlanta, Ga., where she is an attorney in a general corporate practice. Bill is vice president in charge of lending with Home Federal Savings and Loan.

PAULA POWERS Tchirkow and family have recently moved from Cleveland to Grosse Pointe Park, Mich. Paula is working with Puerto Rican mothers enrolled in the Federal Infant Care Project, and is tutoring area junior and senior high students in Spanish. Her husband is staff surgeon at the Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit, and they have two children, Anne and Julie.

MARY MURRIN Painter and Jamie live in Annandale, Va., and both enjoy running, though she says, "...he usually leaves me behind after five miles!" Mary is manager of a retail greenhouse, and Jamie is district manager with C&P Telephone Company. Mary is still competing in 3-day events with her thoroughbred mare.

GINN WILSON Carrington is homemaker and mother of Elizabeth in Houston, Texas. Her husband is a professor of French and director of the Fondren Library. Ginny is docent of the Bayou Bend Collection at The Museum of Fine Arts, and director of Phi Beta Kappa Alumni of Houston.

Wade and SALLY CANNON Crumbley have recently restored their Victorian house in McDonough, Ga. Wade is an attorney, and they have a son named William. Sally is on the board of the Geranium Festival, their local arts and crafts festival, and does necessary art work for the local preservation society, Henry County Landmarks. Wade's work as an attorney has brought them in touch with MURPHY DAVIS in Atlanta.

MARY LATHAM TIFFANY Schweitzer and family live in Warrenton, Va. Mary's husband is with the Fauquier National Bank and their daughter, Mary, keeps them busy.

LAURA SAUDER Olin lives in Lancaster, Pa., and is a swimming instructor at the local YWCA and is active in her church. Laura continues to enjoy their vegetable garden, photography, and reading, and has recently taken up scuba diving and loves it! Her husband is a physician, and they have a daughter, Hillary.

KAE ENGLISH Roberts is a homemaker and mother of Kristin in Charlotte, N.C., which she is loving after five years in Ohio. Kae's husband is a physician.

GRAY THOMAS Rodriguez-Barbera lives in Cary, N.C., where she is a Spanish teacher at the high school. Her husband is professor of Spanish at Methodist College, and they have a daughter named Carolina.

JANE BARTLETT Trotman lives in Casar, N.C., and is a "domestic engineer" and self-employed fiber artist. Her husband is self-employed in custom furniture and wooden accessories, and their children are Nathan and Bart.

In Atlanta, Ga., PAMELA SPEARMAN is a volunteer with the Christian Association for Psychological Studies, church choir director, and part time hairdresser.

In Charlotte, N.C., CONNIE GANTT Hart and her husband have their own business, Performance Institute of Charlotte, sales and management training. Their children are Wendy and Ashley. Connie is active in the Junor League, Planned Parenthood, and the United Way.

From Waynesboro, Va., COLLEEN CANNING Coyner writes that she is working at Riverheads High School as a library aide and is teaching 12th grade government and some 8th grade courses. Her two sons keep her busy during her time at home. Husband Norman is with Bishop Reilly in Staunton.

After nearly four interesting years in Germany, BERYL CURTIS Roach and family are back in the United States! They are at Ft. Lee, Va., where Lewis, an Army officer, is attending logistics school for a year. Son Spence is in kindergarten.

Bruce and PATRICIA TUBBS Burdett live in Plano, Texas, with their children. Patricia's sister, LOUISE TUBBS Boardman '73 and her husband have moved to Dallas recently.

Gifts to order from The Alumnae Office

CHAIRS

Black lacquer finish with hand painted gold trim, and features gold seal of the college. Upon request, can attach engraved brass name plate to back of header at nominal cost.

Type	Retail	Tax	Total Price
Boston rocker	$90.00	$3.60	$93.60
Captain's chair Black arms	100.00	4.00	104.00
Captain's chair Cherry arms	110.00	4.40	114.40
Ladies side chair	70.00	2.80	72.80
Deck chair	55.00	2.20	57.20
Out-of-state customers, do not include sales tax.
Please make checks payable to Mary Baldwin College and send with order to: Alumnae Office, Mary Baldwin College, Staunton, Virginia 24401

Looking Ahead . . .

College Calendar Fall Semester 1982

Wednesday, September 1	Freshmen Arrival.
Sunday, September 5	Upperclassmen Arrival.
Monday, September 6	Registration for Fall Semester
Tuesday, September 7	8:30 a.m. Fall Semester classes begin.
Wednesday, September 8	Charter Day
Friday-Sunday, September 24-26	Alumnae Council Weekend.
Friday & Saturday, October 8-9	Founders' Day Weekend Advisory Board of Visitors.
Thursday, October 21	Term 1 ends.
Friday, October 22	Term 2 begins.
Monday, October 25	Fall Break.
Friday & Saturday, October 29-30	Board of Trustees.
Friday & Saturday, November 12-13	Junior Dad's Weekend.
Tuesday, November 23	4:30 p.m. Thanksgiving vacation begins.
Monday, November 29	8:30 a.m. Classes resume.
Saturday, December 4	Senior Class Christmas Party.
Sunday, December 5	Christmas Cheer.
Monday, December 13	Fall Semester ends.
Tuesday, December 14	Examinations begin.
Saturday, December 18	12:00 noon Examinations end. 5:00 p.m. Dormitories close.

MB

MARY BALDWIN

Staunton, Virginia 24401

(USPS 331-440)

MARCH 1982

VOLUME XXIX, NO. 4

Issued five times a year: July, August, November, March and June by Mary Baldwin College, Box 1500, Staunton, Virginia 24401.
Second class postage paid at Staunton, Virginia, and at additional mailing offices.

Students file up the hill past Wenger Hall after the Student Government Association installation ceremony on March 31, 1982.

864B14 P 8861
95/17/10 12183